Sigmund Freud, 1975 Catalog of the Research Library of the Reiss-Davis Child Study Center, Los Angeles, California: A-K Reiss-Davis Child Study Center. Research Library, 1978 Blood at the Root Jennie Lightweis-Goff, 2011-08-31 In Blood at the Root winner of the SUNY Press 2009 Dissertation First Book Prize in African American Studies Jennie Lightweis Goff examines the centrality of lynching to American culture focusing particularly on the ways in which literature popular culture and art have constructed the illusion of secrecy and obsolescence to conceal the memory of violence Including critical study of writers and artists like Ida B Wells Barnett Richard Wright William Faulkner George Schuyler and Kara Walker Lightweis Goff also incorporates her personal experience in the form of a year long travelogue of visits to lynching sites Her research and travel move outside the American South and rural locales to demonstrate the fiction of confining racism to certain areas of the country and the denial of collective responsibility for racial violence Lightweis Goff seeks to implicate societal attitude in the actions of the few and to reveal the legacy of violence that has been obscured by more valiant memories in the public sphere In exploring the ways that spatial and literary texts replace lynching with proclamations of innocence and regret Lightweis Goff argues that racial violence is an incompletely erupted trauma of American life whose very hiddenness links the past to still present practices of segregation and exclusion

Purify and Destroy Jacques Sémelin, 2007 Review Purify and Destroy demonstrates that it is indeed possible to compare the Holocaust the Rwandan genocide and ethnic cleansing in Bosnia Herzegovina while respecting the specificities of each of these appalling phenomena Based on seminal distinction between massacre and genocide Purify and Destroy identifies the main steps of a general process of destruction both rational and irrational born of what Sémelin terms delusional rationality Sémelin identifies the main stages that can lead to a genocidal process and explains how ordinary people can become perpetrators Jacket Stages of Desire Michael Kidd,1999-07-01 Within the rich tradition of Spanish theater lies an unexplored dimension reflecting themes from classical mythology Through close readings of selected plays from early modern and twentieth century Spanish literature with plots or characters derived from the Greco Roman tradition Michael Kidd shows that the concept of desire plays a pivotal role in adapting myth to the stage in each of several historical periods In Stages of Desire Kidd offers a new way of looking at the theater in Spain Reviewing the work of playwrights from Juan del Encina to Luis Riaza he suggests that desire constitutes a central element in a large number of Greco Roman myths and shows how dramatists have exploited this to resituate ancient narratives within their own artistic and ideological horizons Among the works he analyzes are Timoneda s Tragicomedia llamada Filomena Castro s Dido y Eneas and Unamuno s Fedra Kidd explores how seventeenth century playwrights were constrained by the conventions of the newly formed national theater and how in the twentieth century mythological desire was exploited by playwrights engaged in upsetting the melodramatic conventions of the entrenched bourgeois theater He also examines the role of desire both in the demythification of prominent classical heroes during the Franco regime and in the cultural critique of institutionalized discrimination in the current democratic period Stages of Desire is an original and broad ranging study that highlights both change and continuity in Spanish theater By elegantly combining theory literary history and close textual analysis Kidd demonstrates both the resilience of Greco Roman myths and the continuing vitality of the Spanish stage

The Parable of the Tribes Andrew Bard Schmookler,1995-01-01 This is a new view of the role of power in social evolution It shows how as human societies evolved intersocietal conflicts necessarily developed and how humanity can choose peace over war

The Frankfurt School Critique of Capitalist Culture Ronald Jeremiah Schindler,2019-05-23 First published in 1998 this volume is an impressive contradictory cultural phenomenon It addresses almost every existing contemporary school of thought whilst belonging completely to none of them through an absence of external signifiers With remarkable erudition Ronald Schindler reveals to official society the truth about itself through explorations of areas including the origins of dialectical intelligence a metatheoretical reconstruction of Marxism Habermas historical materialism and hermeneutics and political visions for the universities

Trump and Hitler Henk de Berg,2024-03-01 This book compares Trump and Hitler as political performance artists It explores their populist self staging and rhetorical strategies and explains how they connected with their respective audiences It also analyses the two men s character work ethic and management style In addition the book addresses seemingly peripheral issues like the reasons behind Hitler s toothbrush moustache and Trump s hairstyle By demystifying Hitler and Trump the author throws new light on both of them

The Two Faces of Religion N. S. Xavier,2025-08-28 The Two Faces of Religion considers the entire spectrum of religious experience under the twin aspects of its opposite poles the radiance of mature spirituality and the gloom of sick religiosity Although Dr Xavier necessarily contrasts the positive heights and the negative depths of mankind's spiritual experience he equally emphasizes the vast grey areas of overlap It is in these areas of overlap that Dr Xavier's medical and psychiatric expertise accomplishes the most fruitful of outcomes the recovery of troubled soul from the psycho religious tensions and afflictions so common in today's turbulent and pressurized society His exploration of the dynamic factors underlying the religious spectrum love courage wisdom hate fear egoism identity etc provides a wealth of information and insight to those who are seeking psychological and spiritual growth Clinical historic and literary examples illustrating the operation of these dynamic factors make the book particularly interesting to professionals and lay people alike The Culture Industry Revisited Deborah Cook,1996-05-01 As the culture wars continue to dominate newspaper headlines and conference panels much of the debate revolves around the value of and values in popular culture Many opponents of popular culture have cited Theodor W Adorno one of the leading figures of the Frankfurt School of critical theorists Adorno is understood to have viewed mass culture as completely commodified that is produced only to be sold on the market and without aesthetic value In this compelling book Deborah Cook critically examines this view and argues persuasively that even Adorno's pessimistic theory leaves room for resistance to the culture industry Beginning with an exploration of the theoretical background for Adorno's work Cook then examines Adorno's conception and criticism of mass culture and its consumption and his views about art and its relation to mass culture The first book length treatment in English of Adorno's work on popular culture The Culture Industry Revisited provides new readers of Adorno with an understanding of his theory and an overview of his more important critics Those more familiar with Adorno will find important discussion of some of the more controversial ideas in his work The book will be of interest to scholars and upper level students of philosophy sociology literature communications and cultural studies

Lapp, 2006-04-27 This work offers a psychodynamic insight into Thanatic behaviours and considers the implications for organizational studies To further inform organizational leadership theory and praxis there is a requirement to uncover the origins of these destructive behaviours which the authors believe reside in the realm of the unconscious The SAGE Encyclopedia of War: Social Science Perspectives Paul Joseph, 2016-06-15 Traditional explorations of war look through the lens of history and military science focusing on big events big battles and big generals By contrast The SAGE Encyclopedia of War Social Science Perspective views war through the lens of the social sciences looking at the causes processes and effects of war and drawing from a vast group of fields such as communication and mass media economics political science and law psychology and sociology Key features include More than 650 entries organized in an A to Z format authored and signed by key academics in the field Entries conclude with cross references and further readings aiding the researcher further in their research journeys An alternative Reader's Guide table of contents groups articles by disciplinary areas and by broad themes A helpful Resource Guide directing researchers to classic books journals and electronic resources for more in depth study This important and distinctive work will be a key reference for all researchers in the fields of political science international relations and sociology Managing Modernity Matt Matravers, 2013-09-13 In the last thirty years the USA and the UK have witnessed a profound change in the way in which we think about and respond to crime and social control Crime has become part of everyday life as for many citizens has imprisonment Managing Modernity brings together criminologists social theorists and philosophers to consider what explains these changes and what they tell us about ourselves and the way in which we live The authors consider the pervasive the obvious and the covert ways in which crime and social order have come to structure social discourses and social life from mass imprisonment to zero tolerance to on the spot fines This volume was previously published as a special issue of the Critical Review of International Social and Political Philosophy CRISPP Tower Power: The US on a Freudian Couch after 9/11 Devrim F Kilicer Yarangumeli, 2012-05-25 Tower Power presents an engaging series of discussions in dialogue on one of the first truly interdisciplinary and historically informed studies of the American skyscraper and September 11 Devrim F Kilicer's book offers a critical inspection of the ways in which the center of the center the vertical temenos of the United States New York City is comprehended as the place for the American Dream of material success with its overwhelming bundle of skyscrapers The author contends that it is only by approaching the phenomenon of September 11 in the context of iconic American skyscrapers that we can truly understand the ways September 11 has been canonized and imbued with a sacred character At the same time her study allows September 11 to inform our understanding of the skyscraper as the essential American architectural form She provides a socio psychoanalytic lens through the works of psychoanalysts Sigmund Freud and Jacques Lacan together with social theorists Michel Foucault and Pierre Bourdieu in understanding why New York City has been expanding vertically and what this architectonic verticality tells us about the American psyche Greeting the Angels Greg Mogenson, 2016-11-03 This book written in the genre of Imaginal Psychology presents the imaginal dimension of the mourning process The angels it greets are the interior figures who greet the bereaved during the course of their mourning process In memory reverie and dream images of the dead return to heal and be healed As the bereaved enter into relationship with these images the grief in which they are sequestered is particularized and individualized into the precise nuances of significance which make mourning possible Psychoanalysis Clara Thompson, 2018-04-27 Clara Thompson was a leading representative of the cultural interpersonal school of psychoanalysis sometimes known as the neo Freudians which included Karen Horney Erich Fromm and Harry Stack Sullivan Classical analysts once viewed neo Freudians with the greatest suspicion and mistrust yet today they can be seen for the innovative group of thinkers they were Thompson's Psychoanalysis Evolution and Development first published in 1950 remains an enormously fair minded discussion of the history of psychoanalytic theory and therapy Psychoanalysis has always been a theory of personality as well as a technique of therapy Since Freud was born in 1856 and was an outstanding representative of the culture of old Vienna Thompson thought there was plenty of room for revising classical analytic thinking in light of later developments. Such revisionism she believed need not lose the essential appreciation of the dynamic unconscious within classical analysis. However, Thompson felt Freud's biological outlook needed to be supplemented by a culturally more sophisticated orientation and she was among those who tried to put Freud's concepts of libido into historical perspective. Instead of psychoanalysis having as its objective the release of tensions, Thompson proposed that the goal of analysis ought to be the growth of the total personality. Her revisionism also meant that the scope of psychoanalytic treatment could be broadened well beyond the neuroses Freud sought to explain. Thompson well understood the impact of the social environment on character formation. The psychology of women needed to be rethought; differences between men and women could be partly explained by the social expectations that traditional Western culture had imposed on them. Thompson believed the whole analyst-patient relationship needed to be rethought; the real personality of the therapist has to be acknowledged and the full human interplay between patient and analyst required examination. In the current positivistic therapeutic climate based on technological advances in psychopharmacology, the ethical and humanistic dimension may be lost. Reflecting on the work of Clara Thompson and the neo-Freudian school can remind us of earlier efforts to challenge therapeutic authority and their distinct relevance to our problems today.

Nurturing Our Humanity Riane Tennenhaus Eisler, Douglas P. Fry, 2019. Nurturing Our Humanity offers a new perspective on our personal and social options in today's world, showing how to structure our environments from family and gender relations to politics and economics to support our great capacities for consciousness, caring, and creativity. It examines where societies fall on the partnership-domination scale and how this impacts equity, sustainability, peace, and how our brains develop. Combining cutting-edge findings from biological and social science, it explains regressions to strongman rule and other dangerous trends, re-examines our past, including societies that for millennia oriented toward partnership, and outlines actions to move us in this life-sustaining and enhancing direction.

The Other Side of Joy Julius Rubin, 2000-03-09. This is a case study of one pietist religious group, the Bruderhof, a Christian brotherhood founded on Anabaptist and evangelical pietist doctrine. They practice community of goods, seeking to emulate the vision of the Apostolic church and fulfill the ethic of brotherhood taught in the Sermon on the Mount. Rubin offers compelling accounts of the lives of Bruderhof apostates who foundered over issues of faith and relates these crises to the central tenets of Bruderhof theology, their spirituality, and community life.
