Sergei Abramovich, 2024-01-01 This is the second revised edition of the book published in 2010 under the same title It reflects the author's experience teaching a graduate level mathematics content course for elementary teacher candidates at SUNY Potsdam since 2003 The book addresses a number of recommendations of the Conference Board of the Mathematical Sciences for the preparation of teachers demonstrating how abstract mathematical concepts can be motivated by concrete activities and the use of technology Such approach to school mathematics makes it easier for teachers to grasp the meaning of generalization formal proof and the creation of an increasing number of concepts on higher levels of abstraction The book's computer enhanced pedagogy and its strong experiential component enabled by the use of manipulative materials have the potential to reduce mathematics anxiety among teachers and help them develop confidence in teaching the subject matter through modeling and problem solving Classroom observations of teachers learning mathematics as a combination of theory and experiment confirm that this approach elevates one's mathematical understanding to a higher ground Most of the chapters are motivated by a problem typically found in the elementary mathematics curricula and or standards either National or New York State the context in which the author prepare teachers By exploring traditional problems in depth teachers can uncover fundamental mathematical concepts and ideas hidden within a seemingly mundane task The need to have experience in going beyond traditional expectations for learning is due to the constructivist orientation of contemporary mathematics pedagogy that encourages students to ask questions about mathematics they study Each chapter except the last one includes an activity set that can be used for the development of the variety of assignments for teachers Digital tools used in the book include spreadsheets Wolfram Alpha GeoGebra Kid Pix Studio Deluxe and Graphing Calculator Pacific Tech

Linking Families, Learning, and Schooling Bobbie Kabuto, Prisca Martens, 2014-01-21 Parents who are also educational researchers have access to a domain that is highly complex and not always available to other scholars In this book parent researchers provide theoretical and practical insights into children's learning in the home and at school Readers are given a window into learning in the home context and how all family members organize or engage in that learning Working on two levels the book develops scholarly discussions about learning in the home how is it organized who the participants are and what children are learning and it illustrates the impacts that outside institutions in particular schools have on families It is unique in showcasing parent research as a type of research paradigm with particular aspects and challenges Both teachers and researchers can learn from these studies as they show the impact that schooling has on families and how institutional discourses and beliefs can both positively and negatively affect the dynamics of any family      Congressional Record
