King Norodom's Head Steven W. Boswell, 2016 King Norodom's Head deals with sights in and about Phnom Penh Cambodia's capital city that are rarely if at all dealt with in guidebooks and other works about the city This is not therefore a guidebook with walking tours of the town The reader will find no detailed descriptions of the Royal Palace the National Museum or the Khmer Rouge's infamous S 21 detention cum torture centre though all these places make appearances in the book Rather the reader will learn among other things like the whereabouts of the gold of King Ang Duong and of Madame Chum's infamous opium den the story behind the mysterious Frenchman buried on Wat Phnom's hill and the secret reason behind Jackie Kennedy's 1967 trip to Cambodia Each chapter centres on a site that can be visited someplace or something that can be seen and often touched The hope is that together these chapters will give the reader an appreciation of a number of the more obscure or little reported places in the city and of the stories and history associated with them If this book encourages visitors to spend an extra day or so in the city and if it inspires residents to stroll their city's streets more than they normally would it will have achieved its purpose 200 maps illustrations For sale only in the U S its dependencies Canada and Mexico

Political Violence in Southeast Asia since 1945 Eve Monique Zucker, Ben Kiernan, 2021-04-18 This book examines postwar waves of political violence that affected six Southeast Asian countries Indonesia Burma Myanmar Cambodia Thailand the Philippines and Vietnam from the wars of independence in the mid twentieth century to the recent Rohingya genocide Featuring cases not previously explored and offering fresh insights into more familiar cases the chapters cover a range of topics including the technologies of violence the politics of fear inclusion and exclusion justice and ethics repetitions of mass violence events impunity law ethnic and racial killings crimes against humanity and genocide The book delves into the violence that has reverberated across the region spurred by local and global politics and ideologies through the examination of such themes as identity ascription and formation existential and ontological questions collective memories of violence and social and political transformation In our current era of global social and political transition the volume's case studies provide an opportunity to consider potential repercussions and outcomes of various political and ideological positionings and policies Enhancing our understanding of the technologies techniques motives causes consequences and connections between violent episodes in the Southeast Asian cases the book raises key questions for the study of mass violence worldwide

King Norodom's Head Steven W. Boswell, 2016 Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia Rita Padawangi, 2018-10-11 The study of urbanization in Southeast Asia has been a growing field of research over the past decades The Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia offers a collection of the major streams and themes in the studies of the cities in the region A focus on the urbanization process rather than the city as an object opens the topic more broadly to bring together different perspectives This timely handbook presents these diverse views to build a clearer understanding of theoretical contributions of urban studies in Southeast Asia and to provide a complete collection of scholarly works that are thematically structured and a useful tool for teaching urbanization in Southeast Asia Following the introduction by the editor the handbook is structured along central emerging themes It contains six parts which are each introduced by the editor Theorizing Urbanization in Southeast Asia Migration Networks and Identities Development and Discontents Environmental Governance The Social Production of the Urban Fabric Social Change and Alternative Development This handbook will be an essential reference work for scholars interested in Urban Studies cities and urbanization in Asia and Southeast Asian Studies

Royals on tour Robert Aldrich, Cindy McCreery, 2018-05-13 Royals on Tour explores visits by European monarchs and princes to colonies and by indigenous royals to Europe in the 1800s and early 1900s with case studies of travel by royals from Britain France Portugal Germany Italy the Netherlands Belgium Japan the Dutch East Indies and French Indochina Such tours projected imperial dominion and asserted the status of non European dynasties The celebrity of royals the increased facility of travel and the interest of public and press made tours key encounters between Europeans and non Europeans The reception visitors received illustrate the dynamics of empire and international relations Ceremonies speeches and meetings formed part of the popular culture of empire and monarchy Mixed in with pageantry and protocol were profound questions about the role of monarchs imperial governance relationships between metropolitan and overseas elites and evolving expressions of nationalism
