

Text-Dependent Questions

1

Key understanding: Identify the key understandings and insights you want students to learn from the text. (You may use this later to write an essential question.)

2

Build understanding of the meaning: Start with easier questions about what, where, why, and how, to help build understanding of the meaning of the passage.

Primary
Example

Retell the story using time sequence words such as first, next, then, & finally.

Elementary
Example

How does the main character change in the text?

3

Vocabulary and text structure: Craft questions about the most powerful academic words, and text structures (such as cause/effect, problem/solution, compare/contrast, sequence, etc.).

Primary
Example

How did the author help us understand what angle means?

Elementary
Example

What does the word postal mean in paragraph three? or Knowing the structure, what can we expect?

4

Author's purpose and point of view: Ask questions to draw the reader's attention to genre, author's purpose, point of view, and multiple perspectives.

Primary
Example

Who tells the story?

Elementary
Example

Whose point of view do we see? Whose point of view is not represented in the text? or Why does the author write this?

5

Inference questions: Challenge students to examine inferences on ideas or key details/arguments in the text.

Primary
Example

What caused the bird to fly away? Why do you think that?

Elementary
Example

What can we infer about what really happened to the main character? What evidence in the text supports your claim/ thinking?

6

Opinion and intertextual questions: Have students assert their opinions or make connections to other texts, and support their claims with evidence from the text.

Primary
Example

Is Ramona Q's family a loving family? What in the books makes you think that?

Elementary
Example

Think about both authors' attitudes towards conservation. Which author do you agree more with? Defend your thinking with evidence from the text.

Houghten Mifflin Text Dependent Questions:

Text-Dependent Questions, Grades 6-12 Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, Heather Anderson, Marisol Thayre, 2014-09-02 Fisher Frey's answer to close and critical reading. Learn the best ways to use text dependent questions as scaffolds during close reading and the big understandings they yield. But that's just for starters. Fisher and Frey also include illustrative video texts and questions, cross-curricular examples, and an online facilitator's guide making the two volumes of TDQ a potent professional development tool across all of K-12. The genius of TDQ is the way Fisher and Frey break down the process into four cognitive pathways: What does the text say? How does the text work? What does the text mean? What does the text inspire you to do?

Teaching With Text-Based Questions Kevin Thomas Smith, 2014-03-14 Help your students navigate complex texts in history, social studies, and English language arts. This book shows you how to use a key tool: text-based questions to build students' literacy and critical thinking skills and meet the Common Core State Standards. You'll learn how to ask text-based questions about different types of nonfiction and visual texts, including primary and secondary sources, maps, charts, and paintings. You'll also get ideas for teaching students to examine point of view, write analytical responses, compare texts, cite textual evidence, and pose their own high-level questions. The book is filled with examples that you can use immediately or modify as needed. Each chapter ends with a reflection section to help you adapt the ideas to your own classroom.

What's Inside: Helpful information on teaching different types of nonfiction texts, including literary nonfiction, informational texts, primary and secondary sources, and visual texts. Ideas for locating primary sources. Questions students should ask about every text. Techniques for soliciting higher-order questions from students. Ways to get students to think critically about the relationships between texts. Strategies to help students integrate information from different types of sources, a skill that will help students respond to performance tasks on the PARCC and SBAC assessments and DBQs on AP exams. Tips for teaching students to write good responses to text-based questions, including how to cite sources and incorporate point of view. Ideas for using rubrics and peer grading to evaluate students' responses. Connections to the informational reading standards of the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts for grades 3-12 and of the Common Core State Standards for Literacy in History, Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects.

Teaching Literacy in the Visible Learning Classroom, Grades 6-12 Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, John Hattie, Marisol Thayre, 2017-04-12 It could happen at 10:10 a.m. in the midst of analyzing a text, at 2:00 when listening to a student's debate, or even after class when planning a lesson. The question arises: How do I influence students' learning, what's going to generate that light bulb Aha moment of understanding? In this sequel to their megawatt best seller Visible Learning for Literacy, Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, and John Hattie help you answer that question by sharing structures and tools that have high impact on learning and insights on which stage of learning they have that high impact.
