- Examples and illustrations from real classroom practice
- Details of current research
- Activities, case studies and scenarios

Ian Abbott, Associate Professor, Prue Huddleston, Emeritus Professor and David Middlewood, Research Fellow, are all based at the University of Warwick's Centre for Education Studies, UK.

Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School Mary Biddulph, David Lambert, David Balderstone, 2020-12-07

Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School has become the widely recommended textbook for student and new teachers of geography. It helps you acquire a deeper understanding of the role, purpose and potential of geography within the secondary curriculum and provides the practical skills needed to design, teach and evaluate stimulating and challenging lessons. It is grounded in the notion of social justice and the idea that all students are entitled to a high quality geography education. The very practical dimension provides you with support structures through which you can begin to develop your own philosophy of teaching and debate key questions about the nature and purpose of the subject in school. Thoroughly updated to take account of the latest research evidence and policy, this new edition reflects new developments in technology as well as current thinking on curriculum, pedagogy and assessment.

Exploring the fundamentals of teaching and learning geography in school, chapters cover:

- Why we teach geography, its purposes and intent
- Understanding and planning the curriculum, what to teach
- Effective pedagogy, how to teach
- Inclusion
- Assessment
- Developing and using resources
- Fieldwork and outdoor learning
- Values and school geography's contribution to citizenship
- Professional development

Intended as a core textbook and written with both university and school based initial teacher education in mind, Learning to Teach Geography is essential reading for all those who aspire to become able, effective and above all, thoughtful and reflective teachers.

How to Succeed at School Wendy Berliner, Judith Judd, 2019-11-20

This book shines a light on the best research into learning and the brain development that makes it all possible. Written by two distinguished education journalists, it provides an invaluable guide to the latest information for teachers and parents seeking to help children to make the best use of their potential and steer a true course through an often confused, noisy and crowded learning landscape where ideas compete and nothing can seem clear. Summarising the most up to date and significant research in a jargon free and understandable way, this book provides readers with simple and clear access to knowledge and information about what really helps children learn and flourish. Whether you're a teacher who wants to encourage the right kind of parental support or a parent who wants to do the best for your child, this is an essential read.

Drawing on expert analysis interviews and example studies the chapters tackle common misconceptions and myths and explore crucial topics including The use of neuroscience in education The role of parents and how all parents can help their children learn What works in the classroom and the best ways of teaching a child The first of its kind this seminal text is a unique resource for parents carers primary and secondary teachers student teachers policymakers and anyone interested in the development of children and how they learn Education Outside the Classroom Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education and Skills Committee,2005 The Committees report examines the wide range of outdoor learning experiences from lessons held within school grounds to residential expeditions abroad and considers the place of outdoor learning in the curriculum from foundation stage to higher education Issues discussed include the value of outdoor learning and the decline of opportunities for educational opportunities outside the classroom the barriers that deter schools from teaching outside the classroom including perceptions of risks in school trips the resources and curriculum time available for such trips availability and costs involved policy options for the Department for Education and Skills to help encourage schools improve and expand provision for outdoor learning and funding implications The Committees recommendations include that the DfES should issue a Manifesto for Outdoor Learning which gives all students the right to outdoor learning and which should attract a similar funding level to the music manifesto around 30 million in order to deliver real change
