confronted by the IDF during this period from the Al Aqsa Intifada of 2000 through Israeli unilateral disengagement from Gaza in 2005 and the second Lebanon war of 2006 to the series of Gaza confrontations of 2008 2014 The work shows how the IDF's media policy evolved from a narrow perception of its role and separation between operational and media actions to a cohesive and coherently articulated media strategy that is increasingly intertwined with military action and operational strategy and a vital component of strategic military aims and objectives This strategic stance has led the IDF to adopt a global media perspective using the most advanced new media platforms designed to influence public opinion and improve national narratives both in Israel and the international community By applying the concept of mediatization to the Israeli case this book fills a research lacuna and offers a new prism for the study of media military relations in contemporary conflicts The book will be of much interest to students of civil military relations strategic studies Middle Eastern Studies media and communication studies sociology and IR in general Information Asymmetry in Online Advertising Jan W.

Wiktor, Katarzyna Sanak-Kosmowska, 2021-09-30 Advertising is a company's major form of communication with the market it is a component of the IMC system having a special impact on the addressee and is a form of persuasive communication affecting consumer behaviour Advertising may reflect information asymmetry between an advertiser and recipients This book presents an assessment of the forms and range of consumer behaviour manipulation through information asymmetry in online advertising and explores the possible causes forms and effects The work offers a new approach to the role of advertising in the digital world especially its forms and impact strategies The theoretical framework presented is based on issues related to online advertising information asymmetry and social manipulation The book describes the ways in which these areas can be explored and it presents the results of empirical studies Empirical research allows for identifying companies moral hazard strategies and their consequences e consumers adverse selection The research provides an empirical answer to the question to what extent is advertising a transparent form of communication and to what extent does it represent the world of manipulation Based on an interdisciplinary theoretical approach empirical studies conducted by the authors and theoretical and managerial implication the book encourages its readers to find their own answers Given the interdisciplinary nature of this work it will be of interest to scholars and researchers within the fields of marketing media and communication economics psychology sociology and ethics Ideological, Social and Cultural Aspects of Events Omar
