Epistemological Issues in Classical Chinese Philosophy Hans Lenk, Gregor Paul, 1993-08-03 This book shows that classic Chinese philosophy is as rational as Western approaches dealing with the problems of logic epistemology language analysis and linguistic topics from a philosophical point of view It presents detailed analyses of rational and methodological features in Confucianism Taoist philosophy and the School of Names as well as Mohist approaches in classical Chinese philosophy especially in regard to ideas of valid knowledge The authors also provide new arguments against cultural relativism and antirational movements like religious fundamentalism that do not pay due attention to what all human beings have in common to cultural universals The Roving I: Common Ground for Atheist, Believer, and Everyone in Between , Good

Knowledge, Bad Knowledge Stephen Hetherington, 2001-10-18 What is knowledge How hard is it for a person to have knowledge Good Knowledge Bad Knowledge confronts contemporary philosophical attempts to answer those classic questions by identifying and arguing against two fundamental epistemological presumptions Can there be both better and worse knowledge of some fact Can you improve your knowledge of a particular fact Can there be especially bad knowledge of a specific fact Epistemologists routinely answer these questions with a resounding No But Stephen Hetherington argues that those standard answers are mistaken The result is a theory of knowledge that is unique in conceiving of knowledge in a non absolutist way The theory offers new solutions to many traditional epistemological puzzles including various kinds of scepticism the Gettier challenge and the problem of the criterion It also offers a fresh way of using G E Moore s anti sceptical gambit along with reinterpretations of the epistemic roles of fallibility luck relevance and dogmatism And what can we know about knowledge The role of intuition in shaping epistemological thought about knowledge is critically examined Anyone working on epistemology will enjoy this original and challenging work The Collected Dialogues of Plato Plato, 1961-10-01

The Platonic Forms of the Platonic dialogues Rebecca Newberger Goldstein author of Plato at the Googleplex A landmark one volume edition of the complete Plato in classic translations This is a classic one volume edition of all the writings of Plato generally considered to be authentic The editors Edith Hamilton and Huntington Cairns chose the contents from the work of the best modern British and American translators The volume contains prefatory notes to each dialogue by Hamilton an introductory essay on Plato s philosophy and writings by Cairns and a comprehensive index with cross references to assist the reader with the philosophical vocabulary of the different translators Report of the Joint Committee on the questions in epistemology about the nature of self knowledge and questions in the philosophy of mind about the nature of consciousness What is the nature of introspection such that it provides us with a distinctive way of knowing about our own conscious mental states And what is the nature of consciousness such that we can know about our own conscious mental states by introspection How should we understand the relationship between consciousness and introspective self knowledge Should we explain consciousness in terms of introspective self knowledge or vice versa Until recently questions in epistemology and the philosophy of mind were pursued largely in isolation from one another This volume aims to integrate these two lines of research by bringing together fourteen new essays and one reprinted essay on the relationship between introspection self knowledge and consciousness
