No Heavenly Delusion? Michael Tyldesley, 2003-03-01 No Heavenly Delusion analyses three movements of communal living the Kibbutz the Bruderhof and the Integrierte Gemeinde all of which can trace their origins to the German Youth Movement of the first part of the twentieth century The book looks at the alternative societies and economies the movements have created their interactions with the wider world and their redrawing of the boundaries of the public and private spheres of their members The comparative approach taken allows a picture of dissimilarities and similarities to emerge that goes beyond merely obvious points of difference Tyldesley places these movements in the context of intellectual trends in late nineteenth and twentieth century Europe and especially Germany and enables the reader to evaluate their wider significance

The State of Cultural Biology James Griffin, 2023-11-03 Offering a novel and pragmatic perspective this timely book critically examines the development of a culture of machinist regulation and questions whether this approach is appropriate in an era of rising biological technologies Adopting an ontological approach James Griffin considers how current regulatory frameworks favour digital technology and how this may change in the future

No Heavenly Delusion? Mike Tyllesley, 2003 Economic Policy has earned a reputation around the world as the one publication that always identifies current and emerging policy topics early It discusses key international issues when they matter and is invaluable for keeping track of important topics Economic Policy gives you hot topics from the experts Papers are specially commissioned from first class economists and experts in the policy field The editors are all based at top European economic institutions and each paper is discussed by a panel of distinguished economists Their discussions are published at the end of each paper This unique approach guarantees incisive debate and alternative interpretations of the evidence

Intellectual Property Rights and Emerging Technology Hing Kai Chan, Hui Leng Choo, Onyeka Osuji, James Griffin, 2018-08-06 3D printing poses many challenges to the traditional law of intellectual property IP This book develops a technical method to help overcome some of these legal challenges and difficulties This is a collection of materials from empirical interviews workshops and publications that have been carried out in one of the world's leading research projects into the legal impact of 3D printing The project was designed to establish what legal challenges 3D printing companies thought they faced and having done that to establish a technical framework for a solution

De/Constituting Wholes Manuele Gragnolati, Christoph F. E. Holzhey, 2017-01-01 How can the power of wholes be resisted without essentializing their parts Drawing on different archives and methodologies including aesthetics history biology affect race and queer the interventions in this volume explore different ways of troubling the consistency and stability of wholes breaking up their closure and making them more dynamic Doing so without necessarily presupposing or producing parts an outside or a teleological development they indicate the critical potential of partiality without parts

Bodies in China Eva Kit Wah Man, 2019-01-15 This book seeks to engage Chinese philosophy to reframe existing Western scholarship in the fields of gender body and aesthetics The assembled essays cover traditional and current global issues related to Chinese female bodies by addressing the following questions Does Confucianism rule out the capacity of women as moral subjects and hence as aesthetic subjects Do forms of Chinese philosophy in some ways contribute or correspond to the patriarchal Confucian culture In what ways can Chinese philosophy provide alternative perspectives sought by Western feminist scholars Professor Man uses an interdisciplinary approach to explore feminist philosophy through the issues of the body aesthetical representation and gender politics which are simultaneously historical and contextual The first section of the book Body Discourses in Chinese Philosophy brings in theoretical and philosophical discussions of Western traditions such as those of Plato Descartes and Kant to examine their views on body and mind and how the Chinese philosophical ideas offered by Confucians and Daoists provide alternative body ontologies for critical feminist practices The second section Chinese Bodies Aesthetics and Art reviews female aesthetical representations in classical traditional Chinese works ranging from The Books of Songs women s embroidery sexuality and suggested ways of kissing and the contemporary body art represented by the controversial body artist He Chengyao These chapters demonstrate the intertwining relationship among body sexuality aesthetics and the ascribed gendered roles in social environments The third section Chinese Bodies and Gender Matters aims to unfold the changing perceptions of femininity from imperial China to contemporary China Case studies touch on female body ideals in the literary fantasies in late Ming in the iron girls in Communist China and in the Olympics Hoopla at the 2008 Beijing Olympics This section also discusses Hong Kong women s fashion in the 1960s and how their bodies were shaped by colonial politics Finally the subject of sex and emotion in the development of ethical discourse of Chinese female sex workers from late Qing to contemporary society is discussed alongside the impact of the global economy on female beauty today Overall this book discusses new conceptual models that feminist scholars are using to displace dualism and emancipate notions of the body from Cartesian mechanistic models and metaphors The different chapters review traditional and contemporary alternatives to understanding female bodies in Chinese society Eva Man is professor of humanities and creative writing at Hong Kong Baptist University She publishes widely in comparative aesthetics feminist philosophy cultural studies art and cultural criticism

Bees Rudolf Steiner, 1998-06 8 Lectures in Dornach Nov 26 1923 to Dec 22 1923 CW 351 In 1923 Rudolf Steiner predicted the dire state of today s honeybee He stated that within fifty to eighty years we would see the consequences of mechanizing the forces that had previously operated organically in the beehive Such practices include breeding queen bees artificially The fact that over sixty percent of the American honeybee population has died during the past ten years and that this trend is continuing around the world should make us aware of the importance of the issues discussed in these lectures Steiner began this series of lectures on bees in response to a question from an audience of workers at the Goetheanum From physical depictions of the daily activities of bees to the most elevated esoteric insights these lectures describe the unconscious wisdom of the beehive and its connection to our experience of health culture and the cosmos Bees is essential reading for anyone interested in understanding the true nature of the honeybee as well as those who wish to heal the contemporary crisis of the beehive Bees includes an essay by David Adams From Queen Bee to Social Sculpture The Artistic Alchemy of Joseph Beuys The art and social philosophy of Joseph Beuys 1921 1986 is among the most influential of the twentieth century He was strongly influenced by Rudolf Steiner s lectures on bees The elemental imagery and its relationship to human society played an important role in Beuys s sculptures drawings installations and performance art Adams essay on Beuys adds a whole new dimension to these lectures generally considered to be directed more specifically to biodynamic methods and beekeeping This volume consists of 8 lectures of 15 from Mensch und Welt Das Wirken des Geistes in der Natur über das Wesen der Bienen GA 351

Sad by Design Geert Lovink, 2019-05-20 Sadness is now a design problem The highs and lows of melancholy are coded into social media platforms After all the clicking browsing swiping and liking all we are left with is the flat and empty aftermath of time lost to the app Sad by Design offers a critical analysis of the growing social media controversies such as fake news toxic viral memes and online addiction The failed search for a grand design has resulted in depoliticised internet studies unable to generate either radical critique or a search for alternatives Geert Lovink calls for us to embrace the engineered intimacy of social media messenger apps and selfies because boredom is the first stage of overcoming platform nihilism Then after the haze we can organise to disrupt the data extraction industries at their core

Sweetness and Light Hattie Ellis, 2010-04-28 Did you know that Abraham Lincoln and Muhammad Ali both consumed bee pollen to boost energy or that beekeepers in nineteenth century Europe viewed their bees as part of the family Or that after man the honeybee Apis mellifera is the most studied creature on the planet And that throughout history honey has been highly valued by the ancient Egyptians the first known beekeepers the Greeks and European monarchs as well as Winnie the Pooh In Sweetness and Light Hattie Ellis leads us into the hive revealing the fascinating story of bees and honey from the Stone Age to the present from Nepalese honey hunters to urban hives on the rooftops of New York City Uncovering the secrets of the honeybee one by one Ellis shows how this small insect with a collective significance so much greater than its individual size can carry us through past and present to tell us more about ourselves than any other living creature
