Achieving College Dreams Rhona S. Weinstein, Frank C. Worrell, 2016-03-17. Achieving College Dreams How a University Charter District Partnership Created an Early College High School tells the story of a remarkable 10-year collaboration between the University of California Berkeley and Aspire Public Schools to develop and nurture the California College Preparatory Academy. Bridging the two cultures artfully described as Pac-Man, the charter district meets chess; the university, the school serves as an exemplar in providing low-income and first-generation college youth with an excellent and equitable education. Framed by a longitudinal lens, findings from community-engaged scholarship and a diversity of voices from students to superintendents, this book charts the journey from the initial decision to open a school to the high school graduation of its first two classes. The book captures struggle, improvement, and success as it takes readers inside the workings of the partnership, the development of the school, and the spillover of effects across district and university. Confronting the challenge of interweaving rigor and support, its authors explore such critical ingredients as teacher-student advisories, school transition, the home-school divide, building a supportive college preparatory culture, teaching with depth, relational power, and equity, the forging of an academic identity, and scaling up. At a time of sharply unequal schools, glaring disparities in college readiness, and heightened expectations, Achieving College Dreams uniquely extends the knowledge base about how to better prepare underserved students for college eligibility and success. The book also calls for universities to step up to the plate as partners with districts to ensure both excellence and equity in secondary education for all children.

on epistemological and foundational questions about the writing of history and whose history counts Whose History Counts challenges the very concept of pre colonial and explores methodologies on researching and writing history The reason for this dramatic change of focus is attributed in the introduction of the book to the student led rebellion that erupted following the RhodesMustFall campaign which started at the University of Cape Town on 9 March 2015 Key to the rebellion was the students opposition to what they dubbed colonial education and a clamour for among others a decolonised curriculum This book is a direct response to this clarion call The Second Handbook of Research on the Psychology of Mathematics Education Ángel Gutiérrez, Gilah C.
