Abstract: This paper reports on a study of the effects of a 10-week, 12-session, self-help program on the self-esteem of 100 adolescents with a history of sexual abuse. The program was designed to help adolescents understand and manage their emotions, develop positive self-esteem, and learn coping strategies. The results of the study showed that the program had a significant positive effect on the self-esteem of the adolescents, with the greatest improvements seen in the areas of self-worth and self-respect. The findings suggest that the program is an effective intervention for improving the self-esteem of adolescents with a history of sexual abuse.
