Five Views on Biblical Inerrancy Zondervan, 2013-12-10 The inerrancy of the Bible the belief that the Bible is without error is often a contentious topic among mainstream Christianity Like other titles in the Counterpoints collection this volume gives those interested in theology the tools they need to draw informed conclusions on debated issues by showcasing the range of positions in a way that helps readers understand the perspectives especially where and why they diverge Each essay in Five Views on Biblical Inerrancy considers The present context viability and relevance for the contemporary evangelical Christian witness Whether and to what extent Scripture teaches its own inerrancy The position's assumed or implied understandings of the nature of Scripture God and truth Three difficult biblical texts one that concerns intra canonical contradictions one that raises questions of theological plurality and one that concerns historical authenticity Five Views on Biblical Inerrancy serves not only as a single volume resource for surveying the current debate but also as a catalyst both for understanding and advancing the conversation further Contributors include Al Mohler Kevin Vanhoozer Michael Bird Peter Enns and John Franke

Explorations in Interdisciplinary Reading Robbie F. Castleman, Darian R. Lockett, Stephen O. Presley, 2017-05-31 The tension between reading Scripture as primarily a historically situated text on one hand and binding canon addressed to a community of faith on the other constitutes a crucial issue for biblical interpretation Considering the ways the disciplines of Biblical Studies Biblical Theology Patristics and Systematic Theology approach Scripture and biblical interpretation the Biblical Theology Hermeneutics and Theological Disciplines study group within the Institute of Biblical Research established a four year project aimed at clarifying the relationships between these diverse lines of inquiry into scriptural interpretation found in each of these disciplines The goal of this project was to foster a sustained discussion where exploratory papers might be proposed composed and rewritten for final form using a collaborative process This research project and the present volume resulting from it offers valuable insights into the integration of Biblical Studies and Theology as subdisciplines within the academy The essays collected here fall naturally into the following sections Exegetical Explorations Reception Historical Explorations and finally Theological Practical Explorations

The Art of Preaching Old Testament Poetry Steven D. Mathewson, 2024-11-05 Preachers often struggle with preaching Old Testament poetry They are uncertain how to preach the highly emotive poems in Psalms the one liners in Proverbs the tedious conversations in Job the esoteric observations about life in Ecclesiastes and the confusing love poems in the Song of Songs Here leading pastor theologian Steven Mathewson instructs and inspires preachers to preach some of the most challenging and some of the richest material in the Old Testament This companion to his successful The Art of Preaching Old Testament Narrative guides readers through preaching the oft neglected Old Testament poetic books Mathewson introduces foundational issues and offers basic methodology and preaching strategies that are faithful to the text and sensitive to its listeners Highlighting Mathewson's skill at bringing the riches of the Old Testament to bear on the life of the church this book makes scholarship on the poetic books accessible for pastors and pastors in training It also includes sample sermons

Church on the Way Nell Becker Sweeden, 2015-07-17 The practice of Christian hospitality reaches back to the early centuries of Christian life as well as deep into Jewish history life and Scripture This practice is alive today in Christian churches and in parachurch organizations within the United States but new contextual realities in particular twenty first century global migration patterns have altered the conditions under which hospitality is practiced The reality of migration and its effect on human lives disrupts static conceptions of hospitality and challenges ecclesial communities toward contextual appropriation of hospitality practice This volume explores Christian hospitality practice in light of twenty first century U S Latino a migration and it develops the notion of a journeying hospitality of accompaniment with and among persons migrating which fosters deeper relationships and formation The shifting identities of persons on the move challenge assumptions about what it means to welcome another in hospitality and ultimately what it means to be church from within these new relationships In turn the new conceptions and expressions of hospitality offered in this book press how the nature and mission of the church will be oriented toward new ecclesial patterns and alternative forms of residing on earth
