cooperation and asset recovery Since it came into force more than a decade ago the Convention has attracted nearly universal participation by states As a global and comprehensive convention which establishes new rules in several areas of anti corruption law and helps shape domestic laws and policies around the world this treaty calls for scholarly study This volume helps to fill a gap in existing academic literature by providing an invaluable reference work on the Convention It provides systematic coverage of the treaty with each chapter discussing the relevant travaux pr paratoires the text of the final article comparisons with other anti corruption treaties and available information about domestic implementing legislation and enforcement This commentary is designed to serve as a reference work for academics lawyers and policy makers working in the anti corruption field and in the fields of transnational criminal law and domestic criminal law Contributors include anti corruption experts scholars and legal practitioners from around the globe

Listening to the Movement Ted Lewis, Carl Stauffer, 2021-02-19 Restorative justice is spreading like wildfire across the globe How can we explain this burst of energy This anthology makes the bold claim that restorative justice is a vibrant social justice movement It is more than a great idea gone viral more than the extension of the legal system and more than enacting new legislation Beginning in 2015 the contributors of this volume took part in a series of dialogues sponsored by the Zehr Institute for Restorative Justice exploring the contours of the restorative justice movement Each one writes from the burgeoning edges of their own context inviting readers to consider the fidelity and integrity of the movement s growth As a cadre the authors highlight new locations of restorative justice application race pedagogy ecology youth organizing community violence reduction and more These diverse voices put forward a fast paced hard hitting glimpse into the pulse of restorative justice today and what it may look like tomorrow

Artwashing the Past David W.J. Gill, 2024-10-01 Artwashing the Past Context Matters contributes to the wider discussion about the appropriate due diligence process that should be conducted prior to the acquisition of cultural objects The chapters were written as museums in Europe and North America were facing a series of claims on recently acquired objects in their collections in the light of the photographic dossiers that had been seized from dealers in Switzerland and Greece They engage with some of the recent debates over cultural property that include the Ka Ka Nefer mummy mask currently in the St Louis Art Museum and the Leutwitz Apollo acquired by the Cleveland Museum of Art Two of the essays reflect on the recent and controversial metal detecting finds in England the so called Crosby Garrett helmet and the Lenborough Hoard

Graffiti and Street Art Konstantinos Avramidis, Myrto Tsilimpounidi, 2016-12-08 Graffiti and street art images are ubiquitous and they enjoy a very special place in collective imaginary due to their ambiguous nature Sometimes enigmatic in meaning often stylistically crude and aesthetically aggressive yet always visually arresting they fill our field of vision with texts and images that no one can escape As they take place on surfaces and travel through various channels they provide viewers an entry point to the subtext of the cities we live in while questioning how we read write and represent them This book is structured around these three distinct albeit by definition interwoven key frames

The contributors of this volume critically investigate underexplored urban contexts in which graffiti and street art appear shed light on previously unexamined aspects of these practices and introduce innovative methodologies regarding the treatment of these images Throughout the focus is on the relationship of graffiti and street art with urban space and the various manifestations of these idiosyncratic meetings In this book the emphasis is shifted from what the physical texts say to what these practices and their produced images do in different contexts All chapters are original and come from experts in various fields such as Architecture Urban Studies Sociology Criminology Anthropology and Visual Cultures as well as scholars that transcend traditional disciplinary frameworks This exciting new collection is essential reading for advanced undergraduates as well as postgraduates and academics interested in the subject matter It is also accessible to a non academic audience such as art practitioners and policymakers alike or anyone keen on deepening their knowledge on how graffiti and street art affect the ways urban environments are experienced understood and envisioned A Life of Picasso

IV: The Minotaur Years John Richardson, 2021-11-16 The beautifully illustrated fourth volume of Picasso's life set in France and Spain during the Spanish Civil War and World War II covers friendships with the surrealist painters artistic inspiration around Guernica and the Minotaur and his muses Marie Thérèse Dora Maar and Françoise Gilot and much more Including 271 stunning illustrations and drawing on original and exhaustive research from interviews and never before seen material in the Picasso family archives this book opens with a visit by the Hungarian French photographer Brassa to Picasso's chateau in Normandy Boisgeloup where he would take his iconic photographs of the celebrated plaster busts of Marie Thérèse Picasso's mistress and muse Picasso was contributing to André Breton's Minotaur magazine and he was also spending more time with the likes of Man Ray Salvador Dalí Lee Miller and the poet Paul Éluard in Paris as well as in the south of France It was during this time that Picasso began writing surrealist poetry and became obsessed with the image of himself as the mythic Minotaur head of a bull body of a man and created his most famous etching Minotaure Richard Richardson shows us the artist is as prolific as ever painting Marie Thérèse but also painting the surrealist photographer Dora Maar who has become a muse a collaborator and more In April 1937 the bombing of the town of Guernica during the Spanish Civil War inspires Picasso's vast masterwork of the same name which he paints in just a few weeks for the Spanish Pavilion at the Paris World's Fair When the Nazis occupy Paris in 1940 Picasso chooses to remain in the city despite the threat that his art would be confiscated In 1943 Picasso meets Françoise Gilot who would replace Dora and as Richardson writes rejuvenate his psyche reawaken his imagery and inspire a brilliant sequence of paintings As always Richardson tells Picasso's story through his work during this period analyzing how it shows what the artist was feeling and thinking His fascinating and accessible narrative immerses us in one of the most exciting moments in twentieth century cultural history and brings to a close the definitive and critically acclaimed account of one of the world's most celebrated artists International Heritage Law for Communities Lucas

Lixinski, 2019-05-30 This book critically engages the shortcomings of the field of international heritage law seen through the lenses of the five major UNESCO treaties for the safeguarding of different types of heritage It argues that these five treaties have effectively prevented local communities who bear the brunt of the costs associated with international heritage protection from having a say in how their heritage is managed The exclusion of local communities often alienates them not only from international decision making processes but also from their cultural heritage itself ultimately meaning that systems put in place for the protection of cultural heritage contribute to its disappearance in the long term International Heritage Law for Communities adds to existing literature by looking at these UNESCO treaties not as isolated regimes but rather as belonging to a discursive continuum on cultural heritage In doing so the book focuses on themes that cut across the relevant UNESCO regimes like the use of expert rule in international heritage law economics the relationship between heritage and the environment among others rather than the regimes themselves It uses this mechanism to highlight the blind spots and unintended consequences of UNESCO treaties and how choices made in their drafting have continuing and potentially negative impacts on how we think about and safeguard heritage

Key Concepts in Public Archaeology Gabriel Moshenska, 2017-09-28 This book provides a broad overview of the key concepts in public archaeology a research field that examines the relationship between archaeology and the public in both theoretical and practical terms While based on the long standing programme of undergraduate and graduate teaching in public archaeology at UCL s renowned Institute of Archaeology the book also takes into account the growth of scholarship from around the world and seeks to clarify what exactly public archaeology is by promoting an inclusive socially and politically engaged vision of the discipline Written for students and practitioners the individual chapters provide textbook level introductions to the themes theories and controversies that connect archaeology to wider society from the trade in illicit antiquities to the use of digital media in public engagement and point readers to the most relevant case studies and learning resources to aid their further study This book was produced as part of JISC s Institution as e Textbook Publisher project Find out more at <https://www.jisc.ac.uk/rd/projects/institution-as-e-textbook-publisher> Praise for Key Concepts in Archaeology Littered throughout with concise and well chosen case studies Key Concepts in Public Archaeology could become essential reading for undergraduates and is a welcome reminder of where archaeology sits in UK society today British Archaeology

Advancing Equality Jody Heymann, Aleta Sprague, Amy Raub, 2020-01-14 In a world where basic human rights are under attack and discrimination is widespread Advancing Equality reminds us of the critical role of constitutions in creating and protecting equal rights Combining a comparative analysis of equal rights in the constitutions of all 193 United Nations member countries with inspiring stories of activism and powerful court cases from around the globe the book traces the trends in constitution drafting over the past half century and examines how stronger protections against discrimination have transformed lives Looking at equal rights across gender race and ethnicity religion sexual orientation and gender identity disability social class and migration status the authors uncover which groups are increasingly guaranteed equal rights in constitutions whether or not these rights on paper have been translated into practice and which nations lag behind Serving as a comprehensive call to action for anyone who cares about their country's future Advancing Equality challenges us to remember how far we all still must go for equal rights for all A free open access ebook is available upon publication Learn more at www.luminosoa.org

Who Owns History? Geoffrey Robertson, 2019-11-05 The biggest question in the world of art and culture concerns the return of property taken without consent Throughout history conquerors or colonial masters have taken artefacts from subjugated peoples who now want them returned from museums and private collections in Europe and the USA The controversy rages on over the Elgin Marbles and has been given immediacy by figures such as France's President Macron who says he will order French museums to return hundreds of artworks acquired by force or fraud in Africa and by British opposition leader Jeremy Corbyn who has pledged that a Labour government would return the Elgin Marbles to Greece Elsewhere there is a debate in Belgium about whether the Africa Museum newly opened with 120 000 items acquired mainly by armed forces in the Congo should close Although there is an international convention dated 1970 that deals with the restoration of artefacts stolen since that time there is no agreement on the rules of law or ethics which should govern the fate of objects forcefully or lawlessly acquired in previous centuries Who Owns History delves into the crucial debate over the Elgin Marbles but also offers a system for the return of cultural property based on human rights law principles that are being developed by the courts It is not a legal text but rather an examination of how the past can be experienced by everyone as well as by the people of the country of origin

Construed Heritage Jennifer Goddard, 2020-11-09 Heritage theory places individual experiences in a precarious position Representational approaches draw attention to socio political contexts and ethical considerations but largely render the self silent Affective approaches on the other hand develop meaningful components of the emotive and sensed self but internalized and unmitigated heritage runs the risk of perpetuating oppressive constructs In Construed Heritage Jennifer Goddard views heritage experiences as subjective objective relationships that may be analyzed through discursive and figurative construal level distances Goddard further contends that memory consumes and retains those heritage experiences as cognitive objects where they are collected and curated into personal narratives

Therapeutic Recreation Marcia Jean Carter, Glen E. Van Andel, 2019-06-17 For over 35 years Therapeutic Recreation A Practical Approach has provided an authoritative and engaging introduction to the field of therapeutic recreation The Fifth Edition of Carter and Van Andel's well regarded text extends this tradition of excellence equipping a new generation of students with the theoretical foundations and practical methods they need to become successful practitioners The authors present the fundamentals of recreational therapy practice from the perspective of a 21st century health and human service profession emphasizing evidenced based practices and documented outcomes supporting individual and community assets promoting fiscal responsibility and utilizing a strengths based approach that focuses on an individual's capacities when developing a strategy to improve health status quality of life and functional abilities Updates throughout reflect recent scholarship revised standards and operational definitions evidence based literature to support interventions and global health concerns The critical component of documentation has been added to discussions of the APIE D process while chapters on neurodevelopmental disorders and behavioral and mental health issues incorporate the terminology and organization of the DSM 5 The latest edition also features expanded treatment of social issues and the adult onset chronic and lifelong illnesses and disabilities associated with aging This full featured edition retains the student oriented approach that makes it an ideal text for introductory courses Illustrations case studies key terms study questions and practical exercises reinforce key concepts and offer opportunities to apply chapter content while abundant field based photographs illuminate the practice of recreational therapy
