Scripturalizing the Human Vincent L. Wimbush, 2015-07-16 Scripturalizing the Human is a transdisciplinary collection of essays that reconceptualizes and models scriptural studies as a critical comparative set of practices with broad ramifications for scholars of religion and biblical studies This critical historical and ethnographic project is focused on scriptures scripturalization scripturalizing as shorthand for the psycho cultural and socio political work we make language do for and to us Each essay focuses on an instance of or situation involving such work engaging with the Bible Book of Mormon Bhagavata Purana and other sacred texts artifacts and practices in order to explore historical and ongoing constructions of the human Contributors use the category of scriptures understood not simply as texts but as freighted shorthand for the dynamics and ultimate politics of language as tools for self illumination and self analysis The significance of the collection lies in the window it opens to the rich and complex view of the highs and lows of human un making as it establishes the connections between a seemingly basic and apolitical religious category and a set of larger social cultural phenomena and dynamics Cultural Landscapes of India Amita Sinha, 2020-11-10 Most people view cultural heritage sites as static places frozen in time In Cultural Landscapes in India Amita Sinha subverts the idea of heritage as static and examines the ways that landscapes influence culture and that culture influences landscapes The book centers around imagining enacting and reclaiming landscapes as subjects and settings of living cultural heritage Drawing on case studies from different regions of

India Sinha offers new interpretations of links between land and culture using different ways of seeing transcendental romantic and utilitarian The idea of cultural landscape can be seen in ancient practices such as circumambulation and immersion in bodies of water that sustain engagement with natural elements Pilgrim towns medieval forts religious sites and contemporary memorial parks are sites of memory where myth and history converge Engaging with these spaces allows us to reconstruct collective memory and reclaim not only historic landscapes but ways of seeing making and remembering Cultural Landscapes in India makes the case for reclaiming iconic landscapes and rethinking conventional approaches to conservation that take into consideration performative landscape as heritage Sri Chaitanya's Life and Teachings Steven

Rosalind O'Hanlon, David Washbrook, 2014-01-02 Religious authority and political power have existed in complex relationships throughout India's history The centuries of the early modern in South Asia saw particularly dynamic developments in this relationship Regional as well as imperial states of the period expanded their religious patronage while new sectarian centres of doctrinal and spiritual authority emerged beyond the confines of the state Royal and merchant patronage stimulated the growth of new classes of mobile intellectuals deeply committed to the reappraisal of many aspects of religious law and doctrine Supra regional institutions and networks of many other kinds sect based religious maths pilgrimage centres and their guardians saints and sufi orders flourished offering greater mobility to wider communities of the pious This was also a period of growing vigour in the development of vernacular religious literatures of different kinds and often of new genres blending elements of older devotional juridical and historical literatures Oral and manuscript literatures too gained more rapid circulation although the meaning and canonical status of texts frequently changed as they circulated more widely and reached larger lay audiences Through explorations of these developments the essays in this collection make a distinctive contribution to a critical formative period in the making of India's modern religious cultures This book was published as a special issue of South Asian History and Culture Sacred Gardens and Landscapes Michel Conan, 2007

Studies of rituals in sacred gardens and landscapes offer tantalizing insights into the significance of gardens and landscapes in the societies of India ancient Greece Pre Columbian Mexico medieval Japan post Renaissance Europe and America Sacred gardens and landscapes engaged their visitors into three specific modes of agency as anterooms spurring encounters with the netherworld as journeys through mystical lands and as a means of establishing a sense of locality metaphorically rooting the dweller's own identity in a well defined part of the material world Each section of this book is devoted to one of these forms of agency Together the essays reveal a profound cultural significance of gardens previously overlooked by studies of garden styles
