Performances of Ancient Jewish Letters Marvin Lloyd Miller,2015-09-16 This ambitious and engaging book sets itself the task of combining a wide range of approaches to cast new light on the form and function of several ancient Jewish letters in a variety of languages The focus of The Performance of Ancient Jewish Letters is on applying a new emerging field of performance theory to texts and arguing that letters and other documents were not just read in silence as is normal today but were performed especially when they were addressed to a community A distinctive feature of this book consists of being one of the first to apply the approach of performance criticism to ancient Jewish letters Previous treatments of ancient letters have not given enough consideration to their oral context however this book prompts the reader to listen sympathetically with the audience The Performance focuses close attention on the ways in which the engagement of the audience during the performance of a text might be read from traces present in the text itself This book invites the audience to hear a fresh reading of a family letter from Hermopolis concerning ugly tunics and castor oil festival letters about issues surrounding the celebration of Passover Purim and Hanukkah a diaspora letter on how to live in a foreign land and also an official letter concerning the building of the Jerusalem temple These letters will help us understand a text from the Dead Sea Scrolls namely MMT Marvin L Miller argues for the centrality of performance in the life of Jews of the Second Temple period an area of study that has been traditionally neglected The Performance advances the fields of orality and epistolography and supplements other scholars works in those fields

The Origin of the Modern Jewish Woman Writer Michael Galchinsky,2018-02-05 Analyses the development of Jewish women s writing in relation to Victorian literary history women's cultural history and Jewish cultural history Between 1830 and 1880 the Jewish community flourished in England During this time known as haskalah or the Anglo Jewish Enlightenment Jewish women in England became the first Jewish women anywhere to publish novels histories periodicals theological tracts and conduct manuals The Origin of the Modern Jewish Woman Writer analyzes this critical but forgotten period in the development of Jewish women's writing in relation to Victorian literary history women's cultural history and Jewish cultural history Michael Galchinsky demonstrates that these women writers were the most widely recognized spokespersons for the haskalah Their romances some of which sold as well as novels by Dickens argued for Jew's emancipation in the Victorian world and women's emancipation in the Jewish world Christian Register and Boston Observer, 1927 Jewish Family Alex Pomson, Randal F. Schnoor, 2018-04-11 In Jewish Family Identity and Self Formation at Home Alex Pomson and Randal F Schnoor advance a new appreciation for the deep significance of Jewish family in developing Jewish identity This book is the result of ten years of research focused on a small sample of diverse families Through their work the authors paint an intricate picture of the ecosystem that the family unit provides for identity formation over the life course They draw upon theories of family development as well as sociological theories of the transmission of social and cultural capital in their analysis of the research They find that family networks which are often intergenerational are just as significant as cultural capital such as knowledge and competence in Judaism to the formation of Jewish identity Pomson and Schnoor provide readers with a unique view into the complexity of being Jewish in North America today Law's Dominion Jay R. Berkovitz, 2019-11-26 In Law's Dominion Jay Berkovitz offers a novel approach to the history of early modern Jewry Set in the city of Metz on the Moselle river this study of a vibrant prerevolutionary community draws on a wide spectrum of legal sources that tell a story about community religion and family that has not been told before Focusing on the community's leadership public institutions and judiciary this study challenges the assumption that Jewish life was in a steady state of decline before the French Revolution To the contrary the evidence reveals a robust community that integrated religious values and civic consciousness interacted with French society and showed remarkable signs of collaboration between Jewish law and the French judicial system In Law's Dominion Jay Berkovitz has gathered and meticulously mined a dazzling array of rich and complex rabbinic texts and records from Western Europe during the early modern period including the pinkas of the rabbinic court of Metz that he previously rescued from oblivion What emerges is a remarkably fresh depiction and incisive comparative treatment of central aspects of Jewish law religion and family which will have far reaching ramifications for all future studies in these disciplines Ephraim Kanarfogel E Billi Ivry University Professor of Jewish History Literature and Law at Yeshiva University Framing Jewish Culture Simon J. Bronner, 2014-01-01 Modernity offers people choices about who they want to be and how they want to appear to others The way in which Jews choose to frame their identity establishes the dynamic of their social relations with other Jews and non Jews a dynamic complicated by how non Jews position the boundaries around what and who they define as Jewish This book uncovers these processes historically as well as in contemporary behavior and finds explanations for the various manifestations in feeling and action of being Jewish Boundaries and borders raise fundamental questions about the difference between Jews and non Jews At root the question is how Jewish is understood in social situations where people recognize or construct boundaries between their own identity and those of others The question is important because this is by definition the point at which the lines of demarcation between Jews and non Jews and between different groupings of Jews are negotiated Collectively the contributors to the book expand our understanding of the social dynamics of framing Jewish identity The book opens with an introduction that locates the issues raised by the contributors in terms of the scholarly traditions from which they have evolved Part I presents four essays dealing with the construction and maintenance of boundaries two by scholars showing how boundaries come to be etched on an ethnic landscape and two by activists who question and adjust distinctions among neighbors Part II focuses on expressive means of conveying identity and memory while in Part III the discussion turns to museum exhibitions and festive performances as locations for the negotiation of identity in the public sphere A lively discussion forum concludes the book with a consideration of the paradoxes of Jewish heritage revival in Poland and the perception of that revival by Jews and non Jews Gender, Families and Transmission in the Contemporary Jewish Context Martine Gross, Sophie Nizard, Yann Scioldo-Zurcher, 2017-05-11 Bringing together social science researchers from France Israel the United States Belgium and Switzerland this book analyses contemporary Jewishness within the constant dialectic between faithfulness to Jewish tradition and culture and adherence to the values of modernity and democracy Systems of family and gender normativity have durably influenced the traditional Jewish universe but the norms and the institutions that embody them are today shaky Individualization the essence of modernity is at work in the Jewish world as it is elsewhere and new identities are emerging and question the transmission of Jewish identities and traditions The contributions here highlight the contrasting experiences of societies in the Diaspora and in Israeli society societies that are different yet sometimes very close because of tensions around religious and identity boundaries As such this book revisits the relationship to the other and the conditions for an alliance among people a notion dear to Judaism
