Psychology and the Natural Law of Reparation C. Fred Alford, 2006-05-15 Are there universal values of right and wrong good and bad shared by virtually every human The tradition of natural law argues that there is Drawing on the work of psychoanalyst Melanie Klein whose analyses have touched upon issues related to original sin trespass guilt and salvation through reparation in this 2006 book C Fred Alford adds an extra dimension to this argument we know natural law to be true because we have hated before we have loved and have wished to destroy before we have wanted to create Natural law is built upon the desire to make reparation for the goodness we have destroyed or have longed to destroy Through reparation we earn salvation from the most hateful part of ourselves that which would destroy what we know to be good Sincerity

Love, Hate and Reparation ... New Impression Melanie Klein,1953 The Criminal Law's Person Claes Lernestedt,Matt Matravers,2022-02-10 The state s use of the threat and imposition of punishments to regulate conduct is thought or at least said by many to be legitimised by the idea that the criminal law's burdens only fall on those who are blameworthy for their conduct. However, the formal concept of blameworthiness needs to be made substantive. This puts various ideas regarding the criminal law's person at the heart of debates about blame, guilt, and responsibility. How is the criminal law's person constructed by whom and with what disciplinary norms? How is it threatened by new knowledge and how do those threats play out amongst the various stakeholders who claim the criminal law's person as theirs? To address these and cognate questions, this volume brings together an international group of academics to engage with the criminal law's person from a range of disciplinary perspectives.

Setting the Moral Compass : Essays by Women Philosophers Cheshire Calhoun, Professor of Philosophy, Colby College, 2003-11-28 Setting the Moral Compass brings together the largely unpublished work of nineteen women moral philosophers whose powerful and innovative work has contributed to the re-setting of the compass of moral philosophy over the past two decades. The contributors, who include many of the top names in this field, tackle several wide-ranging projects: they develop an ethics for ordinary life and vulnerable persons; they examine the question of what we ought to do for each other; they highlight the moral significance of inhabiting a shared social world; they reveal the complexities of moral negotiations; and finally, they show us the place of emotion in moral life. Setting the Moral Compass Cheshire Calhoun, 2004 Setting the Moral Compass brings together the largely unpublished writings of 19 women moral philosophers whose work has contributed to the re-setting of the compass of moral philosophy since the 1980s. The Klein-Winnicott Dialectic Susan Kavalier-Adler, 2018-05-01 The Klein-Winnicott Dialectic: Transformative New Metapsychology and Interactive Clinical Theory brings together the theories of Melanie Klein and Donald W Winnicott, two giants and geniuses of the British school of object relations, clinical and developmental theory, and psychoanalytic technique. In this book, the author attempts to integrate the theories of Klein and Winnicott rather than polarising them as has been done often in the past. This book takes the best of Klein and Winnicott for use by clinicians on an everyday basis without having the disputes between their followers.

interfere with the full and rich platter of theoretical offerings they each of them provided In addition this book looks at the biographies of Klein and Winnicott to show how their theories were inspired by their contrasting lives and contrasting parenting and developmental dynamics By examining their theories in relation to their biographies one can see why their dialectical theoretical focuses emerged highly contrasted in their major emphasis and yet highly complementary when applied together to clinical work
