Presidential Debate Negotiation from 1960 to 1988 John W. Self, 2016-12-20 Since their inception the presidential debates Americans have watched on television were carefully negotiated This book closely examines a previously unexamined type of political communication presidential debate negotiation While it has been widely known that all general election presidential debates since 1960 have been negotiated by the participating candidates no one has ever completed a systematic study of them In particular the 1960 1976 1980 1984 and 1988 negotiations were examined in detail For each of these election cycles a comprehensive narrative of what occurred during the pre debate negotiations was constructed based on primary source materials media accounts and other secondary sources Comparisons across election cycles were made in order to draw some conclusions about presidential debate negotiation Presidential debate negotiations are not just negotiations but rather also a form of political rhetoric for several different players The research concluded that there are five contexts in which presidential debate rhetoric occurs and the rhetoric is aimed at two audiences Within each context the functions and strategies of the rhetoric were discussed and explained from the perspective of the sponsor of the debate the candidates and their representatives as well as the media
