Technical difficulties and support

In case of technical difficulties with any of the components involved in the process described in this document, it is important to first evaluate which part of the process is failing in order to contact the appropriate support personnel.

- GFI EventsManager is not receiving any events coming from the IBM iSeries machine:
 - To see which part of the solution is failing, you need to check the following items:
 - Check if the IP of the IBM iSeries system is correctly configured in GFI EventsManager; check the properties of the event group and the machine to make sure Syslog scanning is enabled on the desired protocol and port.
 - Check your firewall settings and make sure they allow incoming Syslog traffic from the IBM machine.
