Urania Giulia Bigolina, 2007-11-01 Presented for the first time in a critical English edition Urania A Romance provides modern readers with a rare glimpse into the novel and novella forms at a time when narrative genres were not only being invented but in the hands of women like Giulia Bigolina 1518-1569 used as vehicles for literary experimentation The first known prose romance written by a woman in Italian Bigolina's Urania centers on the monomaniacal love of a female character falling into melancholy when her beloved leaves her for a more beautiful woman A tale that includes many of the conventions that would later become standards of the genre cross dressing travel epic skirmishes and daring deeds Urania also contains the earliest treatise on the worth of women Also included in this volume the novella Giulia Camposampiero is the only extant part of a probable longer narrative written in the style of the Decameron While employing some of those same gender and role reversals as Urania including the privileging of heroic constancy in both men and women it chronicles the tribulations that a couple undergoes until their secret marriage is publicly recognized

British Internment and the Internment of Britons Gilly Carr, Rachel Pistol, 2023-05-18 This edited volume presents a cutting edge discussion and analysis of civilian enemy alien internment in Britain the internment of British civilians on the continent and civilian internment camps run by the British within the wider British Empire The book brings together a range of interdisciplinary specialists including archaeologists historians and heritage practitioners to give a full overview of the topic of internment internationally Very little has been written about the experience of interned Britons on the continent during the Second World War compared with continentals interned in Britain Even fewer accounts exist of the regime in British Dominions where British guards presided over the camps This collection is the first to bring together the

British experiences as the common theme in one study The new research presented here also offers updated statistics for the camps whilst considering the period between 1945 to the present day through related site heritage issues Anxiety Muted Stanley C. Pelkey, Anthony Bushard, 2015 In this collection contributors employ diverse critical methods and perspectives to explore the role of music in American film and television of the 1950s and 1960s as well as in films from more recent years that allude to reflect back upon or recreate those decades Particular attention is given to uncovering how motion picture culture and its music treated anxieties about suburbanization conformity the family and gender Provided by publisher
