Workplace Bullying and Harassment Ellen Pinkos Cobb, 2017-03-27 Workplace Bullying and Harassment New Developments in International Law provides a comprehensive tour around the globe summarizing relevant legislation and key developments in workplace bullying harassment sexual harassment discrimination violence and stress in over 50 countries in Europe the Asia Pacific region the Americas region and the Middle East and Africa Workplace bullying harassment and other psychological workplace hazards are becoming increasingly acknowledged and legislated against in the modern work world The costs of bullying harassment violence discrimination and stress at work are huge and far reaching Frequently under reported and misunderstood workplace bullying harassment violence discrimination and stress wreak havoc on the vitality and prosperity of organizations and individuals alike Workplace laws have long dealt with physical risks and psychological risks have begun to be treated similarly In response to the changing workplace many countries are regulating workplace bullying and harassment by introducing new legislation or incorporating new provisions into existing legislation to address these risks

Other countries have opted for non regulatory instruments Numerous European countries Canada Australia and Japan all prohibit and punish workplace bullying and harassment with other countries including the United States of America moving toward legislation against this abusive workplace conduct This book brings together need to know information on global workplace bullying and harassment in one place the first publication of its kind to do so It will aid those in the fields of labor and employment human resources management occupational and industrial health psychology health and safety and workplace regulatory compliance stay abreast of laws and developments that these practitioners must be aware of whether operating nationally or globally Academics will also benefit Links to laws and references are provided enabling further research

Disability and Child Sexual Abuse Martina Higgins, John Swain, 2010 Disability and Child Sexual Abuse examines the ways in which society marginalises institutionalises and places disabled children in situations of unacceptable risk and how as evidenced in the survivors narratives patterns of service delivery can contribute to the problem Based on the accounts of seven disabled individuals who were sexually abused in childhood the book highlights a wide range of pertinent issues Through case vignettes and empirical research the authors ask practitioners to scrutinise their current professional practice exploring participants experiences of hospitalisation education systems and local authorities They consider the issue of who abuses and why and highlight issues relating to the complexities involved in revisiting past experiences and confronting unwarranted and unwanted feelings of responsibility The difficulty of recounting the abuse narrative is also examined within the research context This book will be relevant for professionals and students in the social health and education services such as social workers teachers and counsellors It will also offer insights for those seeking a less disablist society including disabled people themselves

International Human Rights Law and Crimes Against Women in Turkey Ayşe Güneş, 2020-12-20 This book evaluates the effectiveness of current international human rights law and in particular the recent Istanbul Convention in eradicating so called honour killings in Turkey So called honour killings have become an issue of concern for the international community In Turkey in particular the practice still exists despite the adoption of the relevant human rights instruments The book argues that the improvement of the status of women in Turkey in accordance with gender equality as well as the application of the principle of state due diligence both requirements of the Istanbul Convention and international human rights law are fundamental means towards eradicating the killing of women in the name of honour Using feminist approaches in particular the intersectionality approach the study looks at the application of such standards as well as the current obstacles Through such a lens the study discusses the strengths and weaknesses of the Turkish Constitution Turkish Civil Code Turkish Penal Code and Law to Protect Family and Prevent Violence Against Women and questions the judicial approach to the implementation of the women s right to life It identifies the lacunae in the Turkish legislation that allow inadequate legal protection for women and the inconsistency of the judicial approach to the definition of the so called honour killings in the judgements The study then recommends some concrete amendments to the relevant legal provisions in order to better reflect the international framework and the feminist approaches The book will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policy makers in the areas of international human rights law and feminist legal theory WHO guideline on self-care interventions for health and well-being World Health Organization,2021-07-31 Self care interventions are among the most promising and exciting new approaches to improve health and well being both from a health systems perspective and for people who use these interventions The World Health Organization WHO uses the following working definition of self care Self care is the ability of individuals families and communities to promote health prevent disease maintain health and cope with illness and disability with or without the support of a health worker The scope of self care as described in this definition includes health promotion disease prevention and control self medication providing care to dependent persons seeking hospital specialist primary care if necessary and rehabilitation including palliative care It includes a range of self care modes and approaches While this is a broad definition that includes many activities it is important for health policy to recognize the importance of self care especially where it intersects with health systems and health professionals Worldwide an estimated shortage of 18 million health workers is anticipated by 2030 a record 130 million people are currently in need of humanitarian assistance and disease outbreaks are a constant global threat At least 400 million people worldwide lack access to the most essential health services and every year 100 million people are plunged into poverty because they have to pay for health care out of their own pockets There is an urgent need to find innovative strategies that go beyond the conventional health sector response While self care is not a new term or concept self care interventions have the potential to increase choice when they are accessible and affordable and they can also provide more opportunities for individuals to make informed decisions regarding their health and health care In humanitarian settings for example due to lack of or limited health infrastructure and medical services in the crisis affected areas self care could play an important role to improve health related outcomes Self care also builds upon existing movements such as task sharing which are powerful strategies to support health systems WHO guideline on self-care interventions for health and well-being, 2022 revision World Health Organization,2022-06-17 A global shortage of an estimated 18 million health workers is anticipated by 2030 a record 130 million people are in need of humanitarian assistance and there is the global threat of pandemics such as COVID 19 At least 400 million people worldwide lack access to the most essential health services and every year 100 million people are plunged into poverty because they have to pay for healthcare out of their own pockets There is therefore an urgent need to find innovative strategies that go beyond the conventional health sector response These interventions are also relevant for all three areas of the Thirteenth General Programme of Work of the World Health Organization WHO recommends self care interventions for every country and economic setting as critical components on the path to reaching universal health coverage UHC promoting health keeping the world safe and serving the vulnerable Handbook of Disability Marcia H. Disease Control Priorities, Third Edition (Volume 4) Vikram Patel, Dan Chisholm, Tarun Dua, Ramanan Laxminarayan, Mari'a Lena Medina-Mora, Theo Vos, 2016-03-10 Mental neurological and substance use disorders are common highly disabling and associated with significant premature mortality The impact of these disorders on the social and economic well being of individuals families and societies is large growing and underestimated Despite this burden these disorders have been systematically neglected particularly in low and middle income countries with pitifully small contributions to scaling up cost effective prevention and treatment strategies Systematically compiling the substantial existing knowledge to address this inequity is the central goal of this volume This evidence base can help policy makers in resource constrained settings as they prioritize programs and interventions to address these disorders

Consolidated Guideline on Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights of Women Living with HIV World Health Organization, 2017-02-20 The starting point for this guideline is the point at which a woman has learnt that she is living with HIV and it therefore covers key issues for providing comprehensive sexual and reproductive health and rights related services and support for women living with HIV As women living with HIV face unique challenges and human rights violations related to their sexuality and reproduction within their families and communities as well as from the health care institutions where they seek care particular emphasis is placed on the creation of an enabling environment to support more effective health interventions and better health outcomes This guideline is meant to help countries to more effectively and efficiently plan develop and monitor programmes and services that promote gender equality and human rights and hence are more acceptable and appropriate for women living with HIV taking into account the national and local epidemiological context It discusses implementation issues that health interventions and service delivery must address to achieve gender equality and support human rights

Sexual Harassment and the Law in Africa Furaha-Joy Sekai Saungweme, Carol Chi Ngang, Graham Towl, 2024-03-19 Written by a team of experts from legal forensic and policy backgrounds this book presents new research into sexual violence and harassment across Africa This first of its kind book foregrounds the work of African scholars and presents careful research analysis and case studies that consider sexual harassment from legal socio economic and cultural realities It highlights the importance of laws around sexual harassment in Africa the intersectional challenges it poses to women in the workplace and the role of the feminist movement in Africa to hold perpetrators accountable and give voice to survivors of sexual harassment The book forms part of a broader African driven research initiative on sexual harassment and the law and is written in partnership with the Africa End Sexual Harassment Initiative AESHI It also explores the need to focus on best practice benchmarks for Africa and also learning from developments in Africa Timely and relevant the book will be of great interest to legal and policy academic scholars professionals and activists working in the fields of gender policy forensic psychology and NGOs It will also be useful reading for postgraduate students of law gender studies political science and African studies
