Feelings and Work in Modern History Agnes Arnold-Forster, Alison Moulds, 2022-01-27. Work in all its guises is a fundamental part of the human experience and yet it is a setting where emotions rarely take centre stage. This edited collection interrogates the troubled relationship between emotion and work to shed light on the feelings and meanings of both paid and unpaid labour from the late 19th to the 21st century. Central to this book is a reappraisal of emotional labour now associated with the household and life admin work largely undertaken by women and which reflects and perpetuates gender inequalities. Critiquing this term and the history of how work has made us feel, Feelings and Work in Modern History explores the changing values we have ascribed to our labour, examines the methods deployed by workplaces to manage or administrate our emotions and traces feelings through 19th, 20th and 21st century Europe, Asia and South America. Exploring the damages wrought to physical and emotional health by certain workplaces and practices, critiquing the pathologisation of some emotional responses to work and acknowledging the joy and meaning people derive from their labour, this book appraises the notion of work-life balance, explores the changing notions of professionalism and critically engages with the history of capitalism and neo-liberalism. In doing so, it interrogates the lasting impact of some of these histories on the current and future emotional landscape of labour.

El capitalismo emocional. De Eva Illouz a los teóricos del biocapitalismo María Tocino Rivas, 2023-12-26 Con el concepto de capitalismo emocional Eva Illouz ha pretendido capturar la coproducción entre lo económico y lo emocional que caracteriza al presente cuyos orígenes se remontan a las primeras décadas del siglo XX En la actualidad el capitalismo emocional se manifiesta en fenómenos tan diversos como el auge de la autoayuda y de la cultura terapéutica la centralidad de los discursos sobre la salud mental o la legitimidad social de las acciones basadas en emociones Este ensayo aborda la emocionalización de las sociedades contemporáneas partiendo de los análisis de Illouz pero con la intención de ir más allá de la perspectiva de la autora franco israelí mostrando sus insuficientes fundamentos económico filosóficos A partir de los teóricos del biocapitalismo lectores de la biopolítica foucaultiana desde la tradición del operismo italiano el emotivismo es abordado como la consecuencia del hecho de que la vida y en especial su dimensión afectiva constituyen la base de la acumulación en el capitalismo contemporáneo

Pornotopía Paul B. Preciado, 2020-03-04 En plena guerra fría Hugh Hefner crea la que pronto se convertirá en la revista para adultos más vendida del mundo Playboy que no era simplemente una revista de chicas con o sin bikini sino un vasto proyecto arquitectónico mediático que tenía como objetivo desplazar la casa heterosexual como núcleo de consumo y reproducción. De la misma manera que la sociedad ilustrada creyó que la celda individual podía ser un enclave de reconstrucción del alma criminal, Playboy confió a la mansión de soltero la fabricación del nuevo hombre moderno. Este ensayo nos adentra en el archipiélago Playboy, un Disneyland para adultos hecho de mansiones, camas redondas, grutas tropicales, habitaciones temáticas, circuitos de vigilancia, piscinas transparentes, residencias de conejitas, aviones equipados con pista de baile y termas romanas. Este complejo funciona como el primer burdel multimedia de la historia, una pornotopía moderna instalada en la cultura de los medios de comunicación de masas y en la arquitectura del espectáculo. Y también sirve de laboratorio para estudiar las mutaciones que van desde la guerra fría hasta un capitalismo caliente cuyos medios de producción son el sexo, las drogas y la información, y donde la arquitectura funciona como un escenario en el que se teatraliza la identidad masculina.
