The Life Work of Henri René Guy de Maupassant Guy de Maupassant, 1903 Contemporary French Poetics Michael Bishop, Christopher Elson, 2002 This book finds its origin partly in the International Colloquium on French and Francophone

Literature in the 1990 s at Dalhousie University September 1998 number of the papers since reworked take their place here alongside other studies subsequently invited They form a broad and varying set of cogent and pertinent appraisals of very recent French and francophone poetic practice and its shifting becoming conceptual underpinnings Imagery and Ideology William J. Berg, 2007 Literature is ostensibly a sequential and thus temporal medium and painting a static and spatial one yet writers like George Sand and Emile Zola have attempted repeatedly to represent visual and spatial phenomena in literary texts just as painters like Eugene Delacroix and Claude Monet have sought consistently to capture effects of time and movement on canvas The incorporation of elements from one artistic medium into another creates a dynamic interplay of image and ideology both between art forms and within individual texts and paintings which constitutes the crux of this book Each chapter involves the detailed analysis of a text and a painting related through topic theme and technique By juxtaposing the works of ten major writers and ten painters of comparable stature the book explores the various modalities and layers of meaning in nineteenth century French art both verbal and visual and proposes ways of reading the ambivalent artifacts of modernity Illustrated The French Invention of Menopause and the Medicalisation of Women's Ageing Alison M. Downham Moore, 2022-10-06 Doctors writing about menopause in France vastly outnumbered those in other cultures throughout the entire nineteenth century The concept of menopause was invented by French male medical students in the aftermath of the French Revolution becoming an important pedagogic topic and a common theme of doctors professional identities in postrevolutionary biomedicine Older women were identified as an important patient cohort for the expanding medicalisation of French society and were advised to entrust themselves to the hygienic care of doctors in managing the whole era of life from around and after the final cessation of menses However menopause owed much of its conceptual weft to earlier themes of women as the sicker sex of vitalist crisis of the vapours and of astrological climacteric years This is the first comprehensive study of the origins of the medical concept of menopause richly contextualising its role in nineteenth century French medicine and revealing the complex threads of meaning that informed its invention It tells a complex story of how women's ageing featured in the demographic revolution in modern science in the denigration of folk medicine in the unique French field of hygiene and in the fixation on women in the emergence of modern psychiatry It reveals the nineteenth century French origins of the still current medical and alternative health approaches to women's ageing as something to be managed through gynaecological surgery hormonal replacement and lifestyle intervention

Damned Women Jennifer Waelti-Walters, 2000 Damned Women charts the previously unexplored literary territory of the place of lesbians in the French novel Beginning with the early depictions of lesbians as decadent monsters by nineteenth century male authors such as Diderot Balzac and Gautier Jennifer Waelti Walters shows how later little known female writers struggled to free lesbian characters from imposed stereotypes While homosexual men are legion in the history of French literature and criticism until now no critic writing in French or English has given the same sort of attention to lesbians Waelti Walters covers two hundred years of fiction beginning with the publication of Diderot's The Nun in 1796 and ending with present day lesbian writers Jocelyne Fran ois Mireille Best H l ne de Monferrand and the authors connected to Genevi ve Pastre's lesbian publishing house While she deals with renowned authors such as Violette Leduc and Monique Wittig including their respective literary and personal relationships with Simone de Beauvoir and H l ne Cixous many of the writers discussed will be unknown to most readers Their novels vary from the extraordinarily powerful to the utterly trite by providing the first comprehensive guide to this body of work Waelti Walters sheds light on French literary and cultural history Waelti Walters shows how the lesbian authors of this literature had little or no contact with each other let alone with lesbians outside France She describes their world and its effects on their work showing how their situation differs from that of British and North American lesbians Damned Women tells a story of alienation persecution and isolation within a culture It is a cultural and literary commentary full of new information forgotten or little known authors poignant surprises and unexpected interrelationships Jennifer Waelti Walters is retired from the Department of Women's Studies University of Victoria

Women in France Since 1789 Susan Foley, 2017-03-14 This compelling study traces the changes in women's lives in France from 1789 to the present. Susan K. Foley surveys the patterns of women's experiences in the socially segregated society of the early nineteenth century and then traces the evolution of their lifestyles to the turn of the twenty-first century when many of the earlier social distinctions had disappeared. Focusing on women's contested place within the political nation, Women in France since 1789 examines the ongoing strength of notions of sexual difference, recurrent debates over gender, the anxiety created by women's perceived departure from ideals of womanhood, major controversies over matters such as reproductive rights, significant cultural changes, and women's often underestimated political roles. By addressing and exploring these key issues, Foley demonstrates women's efforts over two centuries to create a place in society on their own terms.
