In Quest of the Dates of the Vedas Premendra Priyadarshi, 2014-09-02 The dates of the four Vedas as well as the homeland of the Indo European speaking people have been two unresolved issues in the Indian history This book uses the robust information recently emerging from archaeobotanical studies particularly palynology as well as that originating from the researches in geology archaeology and genetics The information generated from these scientific studies provides a vivid picture of the last ten thousand years of Europe and Asia This picture has been matched against the information about the plants animals and climate contained in the four Vedic Samhitas as well as that emerging from the philological studies The final picture emerges that the Rig Veda was composed between 8000 BC and 6000 BC Sama Veda between 6000 BC and 5500 BC Yajur Veda between 5500 BC and 2500 BC or perhaps 2000 BC and the Atharva Veda between 1500 BC and 1300 BC The investigation also reveals that the Indo European words for lion kesari singh camel ustra ostrich opium lotus etc characteristically Indian animals and plants have existed in the Indo European vocabulary although not noticed so far That exercise fixes the location of the Indo European homeland in Northwest India at about 10 000 8 000 BC

The Arc of War Jack S. Levy, William R. Thompson, 2011-08-26 In this far reaching exploration of the evolution of warfare in human history Jack S Levy and William R Thompson provide insight into the perennial questions of why and how humans fight Beginning with the origins of warfare among foraging groups The Arc of War draws on a wealth of empirical data to enhance our understanding of how war began and how it has changed over time The authors point to the complex interaction of political economy political and military organization military technology and the threat environment all of which create changing incentives for states and other actors They conclude that those actors that adapt survive and those that do not are eliminated In modern times warfare between major powers has become exceedingly costly and therefore quite rare while lesser powers are too weak to fight sustained and decisive wars or to prevent internal rebellions Conceptually innovative and historically sweeping The Arc of War represents a significant contribution to the existing literature on warfare

A Day in a Working Life Gary Westfahl, 2015-04-21 Ideal for high school and college students studying history through the everyday lives of men and women this book offers intriguing information about the jobs that people have held from ancient times to the 21st century This unique book provides detailed studies of more than 300 occupations as they were practiced in 21 historical time periods ranging from prehistory to the present day Each profession is examined in a compelling essay that is specifically written to inform readers about career choices in different times and cultures and is accompanied by a bibliography of additional sources sidebars that relate historical issues to present day concerns as well as related historical documents Readers of this work will learn what each profession entailed or entails on a daily basis how one gained entry to the vocation training methods and typical compensation levels for the job The book provides sufficient specific detail to convey a comprehensive understanding of the experiences benefits and downsides of a given profession Selected accompanying documents further bring history to life by offering honest testimonies from people who actually worked in these occupations or interacted with those in that field

Rome: An Empire of Many Nations Jonathan J. Price, Margalit Finkelberg, Yuval Shahar, 2022-04-21 The center of gravity in Roman studies has shifted far from the upper echelons of government and administration in Rome or the Emperor's court to the provinces and the individual The multi disciplinary studies presented in this volume reflect the turn in Roman history to the identities of ethnic groups and even single individuals who lived in Rome's vast multinational empire The purpose is less to discover another element in the Roman Empire's success in governance than to illuminate the variety of individual experience in its own terms The chapters here reflecting a wide spectrum of professional expertise range across the many cultures languages religions and literatures of the Roman Empire with a special focus on the Jews as a test case for the larger issues This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Phenomenology of the Winter-City Abraham Akkerman, 2016-01-12 This book explores how the weather and city form impact the mind and how city form and mind interact It builds on Merleau Ponty's contention that mind the human body and the environment are intertwined in a singular composite and on Walter Benjamin's suggestion that mind and city form in mutual interaction through history have set the course of civilization Bringing together the fields of philosophy urbanism geography history and architecture the book shows the association of existentialism with prevalence of mood disorder in Northern Europe at the close of Little Ice Age It explains the implications of city form and traces the role of the myths and allegories of urban design as well as the history of gender projection onto city form It shows how urbanization in Northern Europe provided easier access to shelter yet resulted in sunlight deprivation and yielded increasing incidence of depression and other mental disorder among the European middle class The book uses the examples of Kierkegaard Nietzsche Dostoevsky and Kafka to show how walking through the streets squares and other urban voids became the informal remedy to mood disorder a prominent trait among founders of modern Existentialism It concludes by describing how the connection of anguish and violence is relevant to winter depression in cities in North America in particular Handbook to Life in Ancient Rome Lesley Adkins, Roy A. Adkins, Both Professional Archaeologists Roy A Adkins, 2014-05-14 Describes the people places and events of Ancient Rome describing travel trade language religion economy industry and more from the days of the Republic through the High Empire period and beyond White Athena Walter Slack, 2015-06-26 Return to the fray of the Afrocentrist movement in the second volume of White Athena Walter Slack follows up his first volume which took to task those who claim that the Greeks and others stole their philosophy science and culture from black Africans arguing that the world needs to give credit to the right people This volume is much less a comparison of diverse philosophies and cosmologies and much more an evaluation of claims regarding imagined imports of technical cultural religious and practical artifacts Slack examines numerous Afrocentrist claims including that cultural tutors from black Africa roamed early Europe Muslim Spain and pre Columbian Mesoamerica and even traveled to ancient China with all sorts of cultural intellectual and scientific contributions The author concludes that most damaging to the credibility of Afrocentrists is their willingness to adopt any and every theory that supports their ideological thesis of African cultural supremacy overtly or covertly based upon race Open your mind to an honest and impartial view of world history with White Athena Volume 2 Monumentalising Life in the Neolithic Anne Birgitte Gebaer, Lasse Sørensen, Anne Teather, António Carlos Valera, 2020-09-30 One of the principal characteristics of the European Neolithic is the development of monumentality in association with innovations in material culture and changes in subsistence from hunting and gathering to farming and pastoralism The papers in this volume discuss the latest insights into why monumental architecture became an integral part of early farming societies in Europe and beyond One of the topics is how we define monuments and how our arguments and recent research on temporality impacts on our interpretation of the Neolithic period Different interpretations of G bekli Tepe are examples of this discussion as well as our understanding of special landmarks such as flint mines The latest evidence on the economic and paleoenvironmental context carbon 14 dates as well as analytical methods are employed in illuminating the emergence of monumentalism in Neolithic Europe Studies are taking place on a macro and micro scale in areas as diverse as Great Britain Denmark Sweden Poland Germany the Dutch wetlands Portugal and Malta involving a range of monuments from long barrows and megalithic tombs to roundels and enclosures Transformation from a natural to a built environment by monumentalizing part of the landscape is discussed as well as changes in megalithic architecture in relation to shifts in the social structure An ethnographic study of megaliths in Nagaland discuss monument building as an act of social construction Other studies look into the role of monuments as expressions of cosmology and active loci of ceremonial performances Also a couple of papers analyse the social processes in the transformation of society in the aftermath of the initial boom in monument construction and the related changes in subsistence and social structure in northern Europe The aim of the publication is to explore different theories about the relationship between monumentality and the Neolithic way of life through these studies encompassing a wide range of types of monuments over vast areas of Europe and beyond

Prehistoric Europe Julian Heath,2025-08-07 A full color examination of 50 fascinating and important archaeological discoveries from prehistoric Europe Countless archaeological sites and artefacts relating to the diverse prehistoric peoples who occupied the landscapes of Europe thousands of years ago have been unearthed either by archaeologists or by lucky individuals who stumbled across them by chance Prehistoric Europe 50 Great Discoveries examines a small but carefully chosen selection of sites and artefacts from among this abundance of archaeological evidence all of which are remarkable and provides fascinating insights into Europe s distant past and its long lost prehistoric societies These 50 discoveries cover some sixty thousand years of European prehistory beginning in the Middle Paleolithic Old Stone Age the time of our enigmatic ancient cousins the Neanderthals and ending in the Iron Age the time of Celtic society and marking the last chapter in the remarkable story of prehistoric Europe Lying between the Middle Paleolithic and the Iron Age discoveries are those from Mesolithic Middle Stone Age Neolithic New Stone Age Chalcolithic Copper Age and Bronze Age Europe The Mesolithic Neolithic Chalcolithic and Bronze Age mark the time of Europe s final hunter gatherer societies its first farming communities and the emergence of metalworking respectively

Dogs in Schools Helen Lewis,Russell Grigg,2023-12-22 Using a wealth of infographics and classroom examples Dogs in Schools sets out the pedagogical principles that schools can employ to work with school dogs in a way that promotes the well being of all participants and creates a safe environment for all This is the first book to combine theory and research with the views of experienced teachers and professionals working around the world from the United Kingdom to India from Australia to mainland Europe Their perspectives illustrate the wide ranging interest in school dogs but also highlight common concerns For policymakers this is a book not to ignore because it shows how dogs have the potential to make a significant contribution to children s well being at a time of growing concern in this area Simultaneously the authors endorse the views of contributors who call for the introduction of humane regulations and fulsome guidance so that school dogs are viewed as sentient companions and not relegated to the latest educational fad This is a must read book for all those who are serious about humane education and ensuring the well being and happiness of both children and dogs
