School Library Journal, 2004 Get Those Guys Reading! Kathleen A. Baxter, Marcia Agness Kochel, 2012-05-07 Want to identify fiction books that boys in grades three through nine will find irresistible? This guide reveals dozens of worthwhile recommendations in categories ranging from adventure stories and sports novels to horror, humorous, and science fiction books. In Get Those Guys Reading: Fiction and Series Books that Boys Will Love, authors Kathleen A. Baxter and Marcia A. Kochel provide compelling and current reading suggestions for younger boys, information that educators, librarians, and parents alike are desperate for. Comprising titles that are almost all well reviewed in at least one major professional journal or that are such big hits with kids that they've received the stamp of approval from the most important reviewers, this book will be invaluable to anyone whose goal is to help boys develop a healthy enthusiasm for reading. It includes chapters on adventure books, animal stories, graphic novels, historical fiction, humorous books, mystery, horror, and suspense titles, science fiction, and fantasy and sports novels. Within each chapter, the selections are further divided into books for younger readers, grades 3-6, and titles for older boys in grades 5-8. Elementary and middle school librarians and teachers, public librarians, Title One teachers, and parents of boys in grades 3-9 will all benefit greatly from having this book at hand. Crossing Literacy Bridges Jennifer Tuten, Deborah Ann Jensen, Charlene Klassen, Endrizzi, 2018-09-30 It has been well established that schools and families must work together to ensure academic and literacy success for all children. Educators understand the importance of creating a learning connection between families and schools. Families provide teachers with increased knowledge of students. Teachers also recognize the importance of building on the learning events occurring in students' homes and communities. However, in practice, partnerships are not easily established. Often, teachers are not prepared to effectively reach out to families, nor are families and schools prepared to effectively work together. There are many constraints in forming home school partnerships and the added challenges of creating partnerships with families of children struggling with literacy development are even more difficult. Often teachers and families find themselves on opposite sides facing similar challenges looking for a way to connect. Families of children struggling to acquire literacy skills are often faced with many challenges other families never experience. For teachers trying to reach out to these families and form partnerships is equally challenging. Bridges enable connections to be made between people and ideas and allow passage from one side to another. This book describes five principles to guide teachers in working with families of struggling readers. With examples from the field, tools to put into practice, and extensive resources, lists teachers will expand their understanding of family engagement. This book is an important resource for pre-service and in-service teachers who are eager to engage more sensitively and effectively with families, particularly those whose children have struggled with literacy. Children's Books in Print, 2007, 2006

Who Ordered This Baby? Definitely Not Me! #13 Henry Winkler, Lin Oliver, 2007-12-27 One afternoon Hank overhears his mom and Frankie's mom talking about having a baby. Having a baby? It must be Frankie's mom that they're talking about. Frankie will go crazy when he hears about this. Hank worries about how to break the news to his best friend until he finds out that it's his own mother who is pregnant. How could she do this to him? One annoying sibling is enough. Hank definitely did not order this baby. Life of Me, the #14 Henry Winkler, Lin Oliver, 2008-05-01 When Ms. Adolf hurts her back in a tango contest and goes on long-term leave, Mr. Rock, the music teacher, is called in as the sub. Hank is psyched until Mr. Rock suggests that Hank attend an after-school reading program, which means he'll miss taekwondo. But when Hank gets a crush on a girl in the reading program and when Mr. Rock says that instead of writing his autobiography, a class assignment, Hank can present his life in scrapbook form, well, life's looking good. Then Hank finds out that his crush is actually the cousin of his nemesis, McKelty. Readers will love Hank's newest adventure, plus they will adore reading Hank's scrapbook, which includes black and white photos of his school and neighborhood, newspaper clippings, memorabilia, and more.

So the family piles into the car along with Frankie and Katherine the iguana. Hank and Emily each get to bring a friend. When they reach their destination, they'll get to spend the day at a roller coaster park during Hank's dad's tournament. The only caveat is that Hank has a homework packet to finish before they get there, which he somehow manages to lose at a stop along the way. Suddenly, Hank doesn't feel so good. Can Hank and Frankie rescue the lost packet and get Hank on a roller coaster? The Power of Neurodiversity Thomas Armstrong, 2025-07-29 From a bestselling author and psychologist, an exploration and celebration of neurodivergence, completely revised with the most up-to-date research and insights. From ADHD and dyslexia to autism, the number of diagnosis categories listed by the American Psychiatric Association has tripled in the last fifty years. With so many people affected it is time to revisit our perceptions of people with disabilities. Thomas Armstrong illuminates a new understanding of neuropsychological disorders. He argues that if they are a part of the natural diversity of the human brain they cannot simply be defined as illnesses. Armstrong explores the evolutionary advantages, special skills and other positive dimensions of these conditions including autism, ADHD, dyslexia, schizophrenia, anxiety, intellectual disabilities and mood disorders. With an emphasis on positive niche construction for each area, The Power of Neurodiversity is a manifesto as well as a keen look at disability as well as a must read for parents, teachers and anyone who is looking to learn more about neurodivergence.

Bibliotherapy Amy Recob, 2008-10. Everyone has dealt with at least one of the issues listed in this book at some point in his/her lifetime. Whether that issue was conquered with the help of a loved one through therapy or is still weighing on the individual, the therapeutic power of the book is often overlooked. The reassurance gained when an individual learns that they are not the only one can open several doors of communication and can put one on the road to recovery or coming to terms with an issue. In schools, bibliotherapy can greatly increase the connectivity of curriculum to the individual student.

My Dog's a Scaredy-Cat #10 Henry Winkler, Lin Oliver, 2006-08-17. On Halloween day, Hank comes to school dressed in what he thinks is the perfect costume: a table in an Italian restaurant. Nick McKelty, the resident school bully dressed in a total blood and guts costume, thinks Hank's costume is wimpy and that Hank wouldn't know how to be scary and gross if his life depended on it. So Hank decides to create the scariest haunted house ever and invite McKelty over to show him what scary really is. The only problem is that Hank's dog, Cheerio, is scared of Hank's haunted house. So scared in fact that when Hank tries to find him, he's nowhere in sight. Have Hank's Halloween hijinks gone too far?
