Book Description

Would You Like to Be Able to Read People's Minds? This question may sound like science fiction, or, perhaps, just fantasy, but something very close to mind-reading is actually possible, by learning to understand the body language. That is exactly what "Mastering the Body Language" by Josh Cantrell is offering you. In this comprehensive guide to body language, the author covers everything from gestures and postures to personal and physical space. Special consideration is given to the facial, eye, and mouth expressions, positions, and movements, and all the emotions expressed through them. "Mastering the Body Language" also explains, in a simple way, what are the benefits of understanding the body language. Even if it's not literally like telepathy in the science fiction books, it does help you to not only understand how someone feels and what they truly mean, but also to learn how other people might perceive your own non-verbal signals. As a result, you will learn how to understand people better, as well as become more aware of your own hidden thoughts and feelings. Understanding the body language comes easy to some, while others can't figure it out. Whether you're in the first or in the second group, with this book, you will not only learn how to understand non-verbal signals, you will master them. You will learn the body language essentials including the following topics: Body Language and Nonverbal Communication Body Language and Evolution Facial Expressions Eye Expressions Mouth and Lip Expressions Communicating with Gestures Communicating with Arms and Legs Postures Personal Space

Mastering The Body Language How To Read Peoples Mind With Nonverbal Communication:

Body Language: How to Master the Art of Nonverbal Communication with People (Gain the Unfair Advantage of Persuasion and Read People's Minds in Business) Dean Cruz, Body language and nonverbal communication account for roughly 55% of what we communicate 38% of what we communicate is related to our tonality and ONLY SEVEN percent is related to WHAT WE ACTUALLY SAY This makes a lot of sense if we say I m so happy but our body is slouched and we say it in a sad tonality NOBODY will believe it Likewise if we say I m so sad but shout it out like we re excited and happy we are going to interpret the person as lying or actually feeling happy inside Body language and tonality matters Although there are certain gestures that have been declared universal have a common meaning throughout the world most gestures mean different things in different cultures regions nations and even cities across the world A certain gesture might mean something good in a certain part of the world but in another it could be nasty or even an insult Therefore before using a gesture one is used to in their own culture they should first find out the message they would be conveying when they intend to visit another region with a different culture Otherwise someone might just break their nose when all they want to do is to tell them how good they look
