effective interventions Depression for instance could be seen as the restricted pursuit of pleasure rather than blunted pleasure experience addiction can be viewed as accentuated drug seeking despite diminished consummatory pleasure This aims to place motivation centre stage in both scenarios emphasising the transdiagnostic theme of the Topic Temporal discounting of future rewards whereby smaller more immediate rewards are chosen even when significantly more valuable deferred rewards are available is another trans diagnostic phenomenon of interest in the in the present context Factors that influence this such as discounting of future reward are thought to reflect compulsion in the addictive context and hopelessness on the part of people experiencing depression The executive cognitive processes that regulate this decision making are of both scientific and clinical significance Empirical findings theoretical contributions or commentaries bearing on cognitive or executive control were therefore welcome   Metabolic Control of Brain Homeostasis Detlev Boison,Jochen C. Meier,Susan A. Masino,2017-10-03 Brain function is under metabolic control which in turn determines the equilibrium of homeostatic systems that affect neuronal and glial networks on the molecular cellular and systems levels The collection of articles ranges from molecules and mechanisms involved in regulating homeostasis and neuronal excitability to therapeutic mechanisms tailored to restore homeostatic function It also features neurological diseases and novel treatment approaches that are based on metabolic and homeostatic interventions Together the collection of articles outlines novel strategies to restore brain function in neurology and highlights limitations of conventional pharmacological approaches We suggest that restoration of molecular and biochemical networks could lead to a new era of therapeutic opportunities
