Grammar Lessons Michele Morano, 2007-04 In the thirteen personal essays in Grammar Lessons Michele Morano connects the rules of grammar to the stories we tell to help us understand our worlds Living and traveling in Spain during a year of teaching English to university students she learned to translate and interpret her past and present worlds to study the surprising moments of communication as a way to make sense of language and meaning longing and memory Morano focuses first on her year of living in Oviedo in the early 1990s a time spent immersing herself in a new culture and language while working through the relationship she had left behind with an emotionally dependent and suicidal man Next after subsequent trips to Spain she explores the ways that travel sparks us to reconsider our personal histories in the context of larger historical legacies Finally she turns to the aftereffects of travel to the constant negotiations involved in retelling and understanding the stories of our lives Throughout she details one woman's journey through vocabulary and verb tense toward a greater sense of her place in the world Grammar Lessons illustrates the difficulty and delight humor and humility of living in a new language and of carrying that pivotal experience forward Michele Morano's beautifully constructed essays reveal the many grammars and many voices that we collect and learn from as we travel Return to Warden's Grove

Christopher Norment, 2008-04 Based on three seasons of field research in the Canadian Arctic Christopher Norment's exquisitely crafted meditation on science and nature wildness and civilization is marked by bottomless prose reflection on timeless questions and keen observations of the world and our place in it In an era increasingly marked by cutting edge research at the cellular and molecular level what is the role for scientists of sympathetic observation What can patient waiting tell us about ourselves and our place in the world His family at home in the American Midwest Norment spends months on end living in isolation in the Northwest Territories studying the ecology of the Harris's Sparrow Although the fourteenth century German mystic Meister Eckhardt wrote God is at home we are in the far country Norment argues that an intellectual emotional and spiritual far country can be found in the lives of animals and arctic wilderness For Norment doing science can lead to an enriched aesthetic and emotional connection to something beyond the self and a way to develop a sacred sense of place in a world that feels increasingly less welcoming certain and familiar In the Memory of the Map

Christopher Norment, 2012-03-15 Throughout his life maps have been a source of imagination and wonder for Christopher Norment Mesmerized by them since the age of eight or nine he found himself courted and seduced by maps which served functional and allegorical roles in showing him worlds that he might come to know and helping him understand worlds that he had already explored Maps may have been the stuff of his dreams but they sometimes drew him away from places where he should have remained firmly rooted In the Memory of the Map explores the complex relationship among maps memory and experience what might be called a cartographical psychology or cartographical history Interweaving a personal narrative structured around a variety of maps with stories about maps as told by scholars poets and fiction writers this book provides a dazzlingly rich personal and intellectual account of what many of us take for granted A dialog between desire and the maps of his life an exploration of the pleasures utilitarian purposes benefits and character of maps this rich and powerful personal narrative is the matrix in which Norment embeds an exploration of how maps function in all our lives Page by page readers will confront the aesthetics mystery function power and shortcomings of maps causing them to reconsider the role that maps play in their lives
