

Can You Find the Side Bases?

In this experiment, boiling acids (H₂SO₄/H₂O) react with hydrocarbons and (HCl) to produce alkenes, alcohols, carbonyl compounds, and water. You will determine the moles of reactants used and moles of products produced using both the lab data and stoichiometry and compare this to:

Sample Table:

moles of total bases used (boiling acids)
moles of alkyne used (none)
moles of boiling acids
moles of alkene (or alcohol or carbonyl compound)
moles of alkyne used (none)
moles of alkyne compound

Calculations/Questions:

1. Calculate the number of moles of boiling acids used in this lab.
2. Calculate the number of moles of product (alkene produced) in this lab.
3. What is the experimental molar ratio of boiling acids (H₂SO₄/H₂O) to alkene (alkyne)?
4. What is balanced equation for the reaction that took place in this experiment?
5. According to the balanced equation, what is the theoretical molar ratio of boiling acids to alkene (alkyne)?
6. What does your measured molar ratio say about this reaction? Is the theoretical molar ratio? Or not, give some possible reasons.

Lab Episode 801 Datasheet Answers:

Paradoxes of Diversity and Inclusion: From the Lab to the Social Field Maria Popa-Roch, Smaranda Boros, Claudia Toma, 2024-12-31 Contemporary societies strive for multiculturalism and tolerance To create conditions to reach this ideal there should be a continuum between what the social actors are prepared for in school practices they encounter at the workplace and the way they contribute to the wider society This continuum should be materialized in consistent conceptualizations and practices of diversity and inclusion across educational organizational and societal contexts So far research suggests that policies implemented in those settings have mixed results This is partly because policies in different fields use distinct conceptual definitions of diversity and inclusion Thus important gaps exist between research and policy implementation and there is little dialogue between research in educational and organizational environments In education inclusive practices focus on students with special needs broader definitions of diversity being neglected In organizations the emphasis is largely on diversity inclusion being a more recent research topic and practice Research conducted at societal level addresses the comprehensive ideologies underlying diversity and inclusion To move forward a dialogue that builds bridges between the various types fundamental vs applied and fields of research educational organizational and societal is crucial Only then can this shared understanding be reached as well as the continuum of goals concepts and practices
