

Grammar and Punctuation

Let's Have a Word . . . or Two!

The English language contains many thousands of words. However, just memorizing the dictionary won't make you a good communicator. Words must be used in the right way for them to mean something. What is the "right way" to use English words? They should be put together in sentences, groups of words arranged to express complete thoughts.

Play the Part: Parts of Speech

Just as actors in a drama play different characters, words in sentences have particular roles to play. These roles are determined by what part of speech a word is.

The eight parts of speech are:
Nouns	Adverbs
Pronouns	Conjunctions
Verbs	Prepositions
Adjectives	Interjections

Nouns: Stars of the Show

Nouns get the leading role in a sentence. Nouns are people, places, or things.

Common nouns name general items: school, laptop, cat, dog, girl. The proper nouns can also be anything, but they're always the names of a person, or place, or thing.

Proper nouns name a particular person, place, or thing: Abraham, Thanksgiving, China, Tokyo, Anna, Fred.

Hint: Always capitalize proper nouns.

• Thanksgiving is a special time for turkey and other delicious food.

Hint: Let them be verbs, too, but it's not the apples, tomatoes, and potatoes that make them.

Interjections: Seed in the Soil

Interjections are words that express a sudden feeling or emotion. They are often used to draw attention to something or to express a strong emotion.

Personal

Interjections that refer to the speaker or the person being addressed. They are often used to express a strong emotion.

Example: I am so happy to see you!

Hint: They often start with "oh," "ah," or "hey."

Interjections

Interjections that are used to express a strong emotion or to draw attention to something. They are often used to express a strong emotion.

Exclamatory

Interjections that are used to express a strong emotion or to draw attention to something. They are often used to express a strong emotion.

Interjections

Interjections that are used to express a strong emotion or to draw attention to something. They are often used to express a strong emotion.

Verbs: Really Set Action

Verbs are the words that tell us what is happening. They are the words that tell us what is going on.

Hint: Verbs are the words that tell us what is happening. They are the words that tell us what is going on.

Present	Past	Future	Verb
is	was	will	run
are	were	will	are
is	was	will	is
are	were	will	are
is	was	will	is
are	were	will	are

Hint: Verbs are the words that tell us what is happening. They are the words that tell us what is going on.

The verb form is called an infinitive. That is the form that begins with to, as in to run, to walk, to jump.

Present	Past
I am	I was
We are	We were
He is	He was
She is	She was
It is	It was

Infinitive of the verb is the form that begins with to, as in to run, to walk, to jump.

Adjectives: Describe, Describe
