Language Culture And Identity An Ethnolinguistic Perspective Philip Riley:

Language, Culture and Identity Philip Riley, 2007-08-23 Examines how language shapes and is shaped by our identity

Language, Culture and Identity Philip Riley, 2007-06-23 How language shapes and is shaped by identity is a key topic within sociolinguistics An individual's identity is constituted through a variety of different factors including the social linguistic cultural and ethnic contexts In this book Philip Riley looks at these issues against the theoretical background of the sociology of knowledge and ethnolinguistics asking how we learn who we are and how social identities are negotiated The idea of the foreigner is central to this account yet traditional views of the role of being socially other largely neglect the role of language Riley bridges this gap by examining problematic aspects of multilingual identities with particular reference to the notions of ethos and the communicative virtues This engaging analysis of language and social identity will be essential reading for students of sociolinguistics at undergraduate and postgraduate levels

Globalization of Language and Culture in Asia Vinita Vaish, 2010-05-13 The impact of globalization processes on language is an emergent field in sociolinguistics To date there has not been an in depth look at this in Asia although Asia includes the two most populous globalizing economies of the world India and China Covering the major themes in the field of globalization and language this book will take a look at topics such as English emerging as the medium of instruction for subjects like mathematics and science Another theme is the rise of Mandarin as a potentially global language networking the Chinese diaspora The cultural contexts of Asia specifically the Sinic Hindu and Islamic civilizations give the processes of globalization and language a unique dimension This book is suitable for researchers and postgraduate students in all fields of sociolinguistic enquiry

Language Testing, Migration and Citizenship Guus Extra, Massimiliano Spotti, Piet Van Avermaet, 2011-10-27 What is required to achieve civic integration and citizenship in nation states across the world Should language testing be a part of it This book addresses the urgent need to develop a fuller conceptual and theoretical basis for language testing than is currently available to enable widespread discussion of this theme and the concomitant linguistic and cultural requirements The policy proposals for civic integration have so far been conducted almost entirely at a national level and with little regard for the experiences of a countries with long traditions of migration such as the USA Canada the UK or Australia At the same time EU enlargement and the ongoing rise in the rate of migration into and across Europe suggest that these issues will continue to grow in importance This book raises the level of discussion to take account of international developments and to promote a more coherent and soundly based debate It will appeal to researchers and academics working in sociolinguistics and language education as well as those working on language policy

The Language of Newspapers Martin Conboy, 2010-02-18 This book charts the connections between the language of journalism in England and its social impact on audiences and social and political debates from the first emergence of periodical publications in the seventeenth century to the present day It extends work done on the language of the media to include an historical perspective adding to wider contemporary debates about the social impact of the media It draws upon the field of historical pragmatics while retaining a concentration on the development of a particular form of media language the newspaper and its role in refracting and contributing to social developments Dialogue is created between sociolinguistics and journalism studies It is ideally suited to advanced students in these areas and in linguistics and media studies in general Multilingual Encounters in Europe's Institutional Spaces Johann W. Unger, Michal Krzyzanowski, Ruth Wodak, 2014-02-27 Multilingual encounters have been commonplace in many types of institutions and have become an essential part of supranational institutions such as the EU since their inception This volume explores and discusses different ways of researching the discursive dimension of these encounters and critically examines their relevance to policy politics and society as a whole This includes institutions at the local regional and supranational level Multilingualism in institutions is currently often seen as an obstacle rather than an opportunity at least with respect to European public and private spheres The volume asks exactly how is multilingualism conceptualized and talked about in different institutions how do different institutions deal with multilingualism both internally and externally what are the policy making rules and challenges for the future for various institutions with respect to multilingualism Globalization and Language in Contact James Collins, Mike Baynham, Stef Slembrouck, 2011-10-27 This book examines the impact of globalization on languages in contact including the study of linkages between the global and local and transnational and situated communication It engages with social theory and social processes while grappling with questions of language analysis raised by globalized language contact Drawing on case studies from North America Europe and Africa the volume makes three important contributions to contemporary sociolinguistics by arguing that concepts of scale and space are essential for understanding contemporary sociolinguistic phenomena showing that the transnational flows and movements of peoples highlight the problem and work of identity in relation to both place and time addressing methodological challenges raised by different approaches to the study of globalization and language contact This cutting edge monograph featuring research by renowned international contributors will be of interest to academics researching sociolinguistics and language and globalization Language Ideologies and Media Discourse Sally Johnson, Tommaso M. Milani, 2009-12-24 The study of language ideologies has become a key theme in sociolinguistics over the past decade It is the study of the relationship between representations of language on the one hand and broader aesthetic economic moral and political concerns on the other Research into the particular role played by media discourse in the construction reproduction and contestation of such ideologies has been widely scattered this book brings together this emerging field It considers how in an era of global communication technologies the media by which we understand the press radio television cinema the internet and multimodal gaming help to disseminate preferred uses of and ideas about language The book is tightly focussed on the relationship between language ideologies and media discourse together with the methods and techniques required for the analysis of that relationship It also places emphasis on television and new media texts incorporating and expanding upon recent theoretical insights into visual communication and multimodal discourse analysis International in scope this book will also be of interest to students from a wide range of fields including linguistics particularly sociolinguistics and linguistic anthropology modern languages education media studies communication studies and cultural theory The Languages of Urban Africa Fiona Mc Laughlin, 2011-10-27 The Languages of Urban Africa consists of a series of case studies that address four main themes The first is the history of African urban languages The second set focus on theoretical issues in the study of African urban languages exploring the outcomes of intense multilingualism and also the ways in which urban dwellers form their speech communities The volume then moves on to explore the relationship between language and identity in the urban setting The final two case studies in the volume address the evolution of urban languages in Africa This rich set of chapters examine languages and speech communities in ten geographically diverse African urban centres covering almost all regions of the continent Half involve Francophone cities the other half Anglophone This exciting volume shows us what the study of urban African languages can tell us about language and about African societies in general It is essential reading for upper level undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in sociolinguistics especially those interested in the language of Africa

Language and Power Andrea Mayr, 2008-08-21 How language is used in institutions and how institutions generate language is a key concern of both sociolinguistics and social theory This readable and comprehensive introduction to language and power in institutions combines theoretical reflection with a strong analytical focus Covering a range of institutional discourses and settings each chapter in Language and Power closely examines institutional discourse practices and provides detailed steps to the critical analysis of institutional discourse both linguistic and multimodal This book is a long overdue contribution to the analysis of the way that institutions have the power to shape our thinking and understanding of the world and to construct identities Key Features This book contains fascinating examples from a variety of institutional contexts including academia prison media and the military It brings together insights from multimodal critical discourse analysis social theory media studies and corpus analysis It is essential reading for advanced undergraduates and postgraduates doing sociolinguistics media studies communication and cultural studies Semiotic Landscapes Adam Jaworski, Crispin Thurlow, 2010-06-10 Landscapes generate meaning and impact on three major areas of scholarly interest language and visual discourse spatial practices and global capitalism The Languages of Global Hip Hop Marina Terkourafi, 2010-07-22 In the case of hip hop the forces of top down corporatization and bottom up globalization are inextricably woven This volume takes the view that hip hop should not be viewed with this dichotomous dynamic in mind and that this dynamic does not arise solely outside of the continental US Close analysis of the facts reveals a much more complex situation in which market pressures local musical traditions linguistic and semiotic intelligibility as well as each country's particular historico political past conspire to yield new hybrid expressive genres This exciting collection looks at linguistic cultural and economic aspects of hip hop in parallel and showcases a global scope It engages with questions of code switching code mixing the minority language regional dialect vs standard dynamic the discourse of political resistance immigrant ideologies youth and new language varieties and will be essential reading for graduates and researchers in sociolinguistics and discourse analysis Reterritorializing Linguistic Landscapes David Malinowski, Stefania Tufi, 2020-01-23 A historically spatially and methodologically rich sub field of sociolinguistics Linguistic Landscapes LL is a rapidly evolving area of research and study With contributions by an international team of experts from the USA Europe the UK South Africa Israel Hong Kong and Colombia this volume is a cutting edge interdisciplinary account of the most recent theoretical and empirical developments in this area It covers both the conceptual tools and methodologies used to define and question and case studies of real world phenomena to showcase Linguistic Landscapes methods in action Divided into four parts chapters bring into dialogue themes relating to reterritorialization practices and the productive nature of boundaries and spaces This book considers the contemporary challenges facing the field the politics and processes of identifying and demarcating sites of research and the ethics and pedagogical applications of LL research With comprehensive lists of further reading extended discussion questions and suggestions for independent research at the end of each chapter this is an essential reference work for all LL scholars and students who wish to keep abreast of the current state of the art Those for Whom the Lamp Shines Vince L. Bantu, 2023-09-26 In Those for Whom the Lamp Shines Vince L Bantu uses the rich body of anti Chalcedonian literature to explore how the peoples of Egypt both inside and outside the Coptic Church came to understand their identity as Egyptians Working across a comparative spectrum of traditions and communities in late antiquity at the intersection of religious and other social forms of identity Bantu shows that it was the dissenting doctrines of the Coptic Church that played the crucial role in conceptualizing Egypt and being Egyptian Based on the study of neglected Coptic and Syriac texts Those for Whom the Lamp Shines offers the only sustained treatment of ethnic and religious self understanding in Africa s oldest Christian church Language in the Media Sally Johnson, Astrid Ensslin, 2007-11-19 This book examines the ways in which the media represents language related issues but also how the media s use of language is central to the construction of what people think language is could or ought to be like The chapters examine issues of identity gender youth citizenship politics and ideology across a range of media including television radio newspapers magazines and the internet The result is a multilingual survey of the construction of language in and by the media that will be essential reading for students and researchers of sociolinguistics or language and communication Intercultural Contact, Language Learning and Migration Barbara Geraghty, Jean Conacher, 2014-09-25 At the heart of this volume lies an exploration of what actually happens to languages and their users when cultures come into contact What actions do supra national institutions nation states communities and individuals take in response to questions raised by the increasingly diverse forms of migration experienced in a globalized world The volume reveals the profound impact that decisions made at national and international level can have on the lives of the individual migrant language student or speech community Equally it evaluates the broader ramifications of actions taken by migrant communities and individual language learners around issues of language learning language maintenance and intercultural contact Reflecting Jan Blommaert's assertion that in a world shaped by globalization what is needed is a theory of language in society of changing language in a changing society this volume argues that researchers must increasingly seek diverse methodological approaches if they are to do justice to the diversity of experience and response they encounter Negotiating and Contesting Identities in Linguistic Landscapes Robert

Blackwood,2016-02-25 This collection represents contemporary perspectives on important aspects of research into the language in the public space known as the Linguistic Landscape LL with the focus on the negotiation and contestation of identities From four continents and examining vital issues across North America Africa Europe and Asia scholars with notable experience in LL research are drawn together in this the latest collection to be produced by core researchers in this field Building on the growing published body of research into LL work the fifteen data chapters test challenge and advance this sub field of sociolinguistics through their close examination of languages as they appear on the walls and in the public spaces of sites from South Korea to South Africa from Italy to Israel from Addis Ababa to Zanzibar The geographic coverage is matched by the depth of engagement with developments in this burgeoning field of scholarship As such this volume is an up to date collection of research chapters each of which addresses pertinent and important issues within their respective geographic spaces Multilingual Memories Robert Blackwood,John Macalister,2019-10-17 Drawing on a range of disciplines from within the humanities and social sciences Multilingual Memories addresses questions of remembering and forgetting from an explicitly multilingual perspective From a museum at Victoria Falls in Zambia to a Japanese American internment in Arkansas this book probes how the medium of the communication of memories affirms social orders across the globe Applying linguistic landscape approaches to a wide variety of monuments and memorials from around the world this book identifies how multilingualism and its absence contributes to the inevitable partiality of public memorials Using a number of different methods including multimodal discourse analysis code preferences interaction orders and indexicality the chapters explore how memorials have the potential to erase linguistic diversity as much as they can entextualize multilingualism With examples from Africa Asia Australasia Europe and North and South America this volume also examines the extent to which multilingual memories legitimize not only specific discourses but also individuals particular communities and ethno linguistic groups often to the detriment of others Becoming a Citizen Kamran Khan,2019-01-24 This book explores the process of acquiring UK citizenship and investigates how the naturalisation process is experienced with an explicit focus on language practices This ethnographically informed study focuses on W a Yemeni immigrant in the UK during the final phase of the citizenship process In this time he encounters linguistic trials and tests involving the Life in the UK citizenship test community life ESOL English for Speakers of Other Languages adult education and the citizenship ceremony The richness of linguistic data featured in this book allows for a nuanced portrayal of the complexities of becoming a citizen

This is especially so in the context of the UK's assimilationist form of citizenship which is reflected in the introduction of a citizenship test within a broader socio-political climate. Becoming a Citizen offers a detailed analysis of the linguistic process of naturalisation in the UK and is relevant to scholars working in sociolinguistics, language policy, migration studies and ethnographic research.

Voices in the Media Gaëlle Planchenault, 2015-10-22

Verbal performances are often encountered in the media where they are used to embody characters or social archetypes. Performed voices define the norm as well as the linguistic Others and by doing so circulate associated values and linguistic ideologies. This book explores the idea that far from simply being exercises in verbal skill and flair, performances of social, ethnic or gendered voices in the media not only have the power to accomplish ideological work, they are also sites of linguistic tension and negotiation. Critically examining performances of French voices in the media, this book raises the following questions: How are repertoires of voices constructed and subsequently perpetuated in the media? How do the stereotypic personae these voices contribute to build become familiar to national as well as transnational audiences? How do such performed voices reproduce hegemonic ideologies of standard and non-standard languages and participate in the perpetuation of social discriminations? How are these performed voices commodified into cultural products of otherness that may later be reclaimed by stigmatized communities? Following an innovative framework which allows for analysis of performances of varied voices and their impact in the media sphere, Voices in the Media offers a new approach to the linguistics of media performance.
