Het Woelige Water Watermanagement In Nederland:

Water Policy in the Netherlands Stijn Reinhard, Henk Folmer, 2011 As a low lying delta region with a high population density the Netherlands has long focused on the prevention of flooding catastrophes and the reclamation of valuable land The evolution of Dutch water governance beginning with the creation of local water boards in the Middle Ages and growing into a complex infrastructure of polders dams and controlled waterways offers a compelling study of pitfalls and successes within one of the world's most challenging regions for water management Water Policy in the Netherlands traces the arc of water governance in the country from technological in A Century of Fluid Mechanics in The Netherlands Fons

Alkemade, 2019-05-14 In October 1918 Jan Burgers 23 years old started as professor of aerodynamics hydrodynamics and their applications at the Technical University in Delft This can be regarded as the birth of fluid mechanics in the Netherlands not only as an academic discipline but also as the start of the serious study of flow phenomena in engineering environments During the period of Burgers tenure in Delft till 1955 three Dutch institutes were founded which to this day remain important centres of research in various fields of fluid mechanics aerospace engineering hydraulics and naval engineering Burgers and others developed mathematical experimental and numerical approaches of a broad range of fluid flows some of their achievements have become well known worldwide and can be seen as highlights of Dutch fluid mechanics From the 1950s Stroming's leier flow theory attained a permanent and respected place in the curriculum and research of technical universities at many old and new research institutes and also at several industrial research laboratories In the 1980s fluid mechanics finally became recognized as a serious branch of physics and an important field of applied science This resulted in a close cooperation between academic groups institutes and industry and the foundation of the Burgerscentrum the Research School for Fluid Mechanics in the Netherlands One hundred years after Burgers appointment in Delft Dutch fluid mechanics is still very much alive This volume gives a full account of its rich history and also offers a view on the broad range of areas of application transport energy production biology and medicine production processes etc It has been written not only for those working in this field but also for those interested in the history of Dutch science and in the development of science and the fascinating world of fluid flow phenomena Het woelige water Hans Vandersmissen, 1997 Climate Change and

Flood Risk Management E. Carina H. Keskitalo, 2013-11-29 Taken together the studies show that integration of adaptation in flood risk and emergency management may differ strongly _ not only with risk but with a number of institutional and contextual factors including capacities and priorities in the speci Making Space for the River Jeroen Frank

Warner, Arwin van Buuren, Jurian Edelenbos, 2012-11-01 This book examines recent developments in river flood management from the viewpoint of Making Space for the River and the resulting challenges for water governance Different examples from Europe and the United States of America are discussed that aim to green rivers including increasing river discharge for flood management enhancing natural and landscape values promoting local or regional economic development and urban regeneration Making Space for the River presents not only opportunities and synergies but also risks as it crosses established institutional boundaries and touches on multiple stakeholder interests which can easily clash Making Space for the River helps the reader to understand the policy and governance dynamics that lead to these tensions and pays attention to a variety of attempts to organize effective and legitimate governance approaches The book helps to realize connections between policy domains problem frames and goals of different actors at different levels that contribute to decisive and legitimate action Making Space for the River has an international comparative character that sheds light upon both the country specific governance dilemmas which relate to specific state traditions and institutional characteristics of national water management but also uncovers interesting similarities which provide us with building blocks to formulate more generic lessons about the governance of Making Space for the River in different institutional and social contexts The authors of this book come from a variety of disciplines including public administration town and country planning geography and anthropology and these different disciplines bring multiple ways of knowing and understanding of Making Space for the River programs The book combines interdisciplinary scientific analyses of Space for the River projects and programs with practical knowing and lessons drawing Making Space for the River is written for both practitioners and scholars and students of environmental policy spatial planning land use and water management Editors Jeroen Warner Assistant Professor of Disaster Studies Wageningen University The Netherlands Arwin van Buuren Associate Professor of Public Administration Erasmus University Rotterdam The Netherlands Jurian Edelenbos Professor of Public Administration Erasmus University Rotterdam The Netherlands
