White-Jacket, Moby-Dick Herman Melville, 1983 American Literature Before 1880 Robert Lawson-Peebles, 2003-11-13 American Literature Before 1880 attempts to place its subject in the broadest possible international perspective It begins with Homer looking westward and ends with Henry James crossing the Atlantic eastwards In between the book examines the projection of images of the East onto an as yet unrecognised West the cultural consequences of Viking Colombian and then English migration to America the growth and independence of the British American colonies the key writers of the new Republic and the development of the culture of the United States before and after the Civil War It is intended both as an introduction for undergraduates to the richness and variety of American Literature and as a contribution to the debate about its distinctive nature The book therefore begins with a lengthy survey of earlier histories of American Literature Melville's Philosophies Branka Arsic, K. L. Evans, 2017-05-18 Melville's Philosophies departs from a long tradition of critical assessments of Melville that dismissed his philosophical capacities as ingenious but muddled Its contributors do not apply philosophy to Melville in order to detect just how much of it he knew or understood To the contrary they try to hear the philosophical arguments themselves often very strange and quite radical that Melville never stopped articulating and reformulating What emerges is a Melville who is materialistically oriented in a radical way a Melville who thinks about life forms not just in the context of contemporary sciences but also ontologically Melville's Philosophies recovers a Melville who is a thinker of great caliber which means obliquely but dramatically reversing the way the critical tradition has characterized his ideas Finally as a result of the readings collected here Melville emerges as a very relevant thinker for contemporary philosophical concerns such as the materialist turn climate change and post humanism

The American Revolution: Writings from the War of Independence 1775-1783 \(LOA #123\) Various, 2001-04-01 This comprehensive collection of writings from the War of Independence poses a subtle but profound challenge to much that we think we know about the founders and their era Los Angeles Times Drawn from letters diaries newspaper articles public declarations contemporary narratives and private memoranda this Library of America volume brings together over 120 pieces by more than seventy participants and eyewitnesses to create a unique literary panorama of the War of Independence. Beginning with Paul Revere's own narrative of his legendary ride in April 1775 and ending with a moving account of George Washington's resignation from the command of the Continental Army in December 1783, the volume contains writing that describes the major events of the conflict: the early battles of Lexington, Concord, and Bunker Hill; the failed American invasion of Canada; the 1776 campaign in New York and New Jersey; the crucial battle of Saratoga; the bitter fighting in the South and along the western frontier; and the decisive triumph at Yorktown. Included are writings by famous figures: Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Benedict Arnold, John and Abigail Adams, and by lesser-known participants: Samuel Blachley Webb describing courage and panic at Bunker Hill; Sarah Hodgkins writing longingly to her absent soldier husband Jabez Fitch recounting the last hours of a wounded American officer in Brooklyn; Albion Waldo chronicling the privations and miseries of Valley Forge; Otho Holland Williams recording with appealing candor American defeats and victories in South Carolina. The volume also contains writings by American Loyalists and by British officers and officials serving in America that provide provocative insights into the losing side of an epochal conflict. All selections are written by people who were in America at the time of the conflict. The American Revolution also includes a chronology of events, biographical and explanatory notes, and an index.

Literary Spinoffs Birgit Spengler, 2015-03-05 Birgit Spengler untersucht in ihrer Arbeit das zeitgenössische Genre der Spinoffs: Romane, die klassische kanonische Werke der amerikanischen Literatur kreativ um und fortzuschreiben. Am Beispiel der schreibenden Auseinandersetzung mit Klassikern wie Moby Dick oder den Adventures of Huckleberry Finn entschlüsselt sie die literarischen Strategien, die Spinoffs nutzen, um auf gesamt-kulturelle Sinnstiftungsprozesse Einfluss zu nehmen und sich in die kulturelle Imagination einzuschreiben. Dabei stellen diese Romane auch die Frage nach der Abgeschlossenheit von Kunstwerken nach kulturellem Kapital und geistigem Eigentum neu.

Nobody's Home Arnold Weinstein, 1993-03-11 Nobody's Home is a bold view of the American novel from its beginnings to the contemporary scene. Focusing on some of the deepest instincts of American life and culture: individual liberty, freedom of speech, constructing a life. Arnold Weinstein brilliantly sketches the remarkable career of the American self in some of the major works of the past one hundred fifty years. Weinstein contends that American writers are haunted by the twin specters of the self as a mirage as Nobody and by the brutal forces of culture and ideology that deny selfhood to people on the basis of money sex and color of skin His central thesis is that language makes possible freedoms and accomplishments that are achievable in no other realm and that American fiction is a fascinating record of the human fight against coercion of the kinds of maneuvering room that we may find in life and in art This study is unique in several respects it offers some of the keenest readings of major American texts that have ever been written including some of the most significant works of the past decades and it fashions a rich and supple view of the American novel as a writerly form of freedom in sharp contrast to today's critical emphasis on blindness and coercion
