Heroes Mass Murder And Suicide Futures:

The Future Marc Auge,2015-02-03 For Marc Aug best selling author of Non Places the prevailing idea of the Future rests on our present fears of the contemporary world It is to the future that we look for redemption and progress but it is also where we project our personal and apocalyptic anxieties By questioning notions of certainty truth and totality Aug finds ways to separate the future from our eternal terrified present and liberates the mind to allow it to conceptualize our possible futures afresh

Psychopolitics Byung-Chul Han,2017-12-05 Exploring how neoliberalism has discovered the productive force of the psyche Byung Chul Han a star of German philosophy continues his passionate critique of neoliberalism trenchantly describing a regime of technological domination that in contrast to Foucault's biopower has discovered the productive force of the psyche In the course of discussing all the facets of neoliberal psychopolitics fueling our contemporary crisis of freedom Han elaborates an analytical framework that provides an original theory of Big Data and a lucid phenomenology of emotion But this provocative essay proposes counter models too presenting a wealth of ideas and surprising alternatives at every turn

The Near Future in 21st Century Fiction David Sergeant,2022-12-22 Explores contemporary fiction set in the near future to shed new light on our culture's relationship to the Anthropocene

The Exform Nicolas Bourriaud,2016-08-16 Author of the influential Relational Aesthetics examines the dynamics of ideology Leading theorist and art curator Nicolas Bourriaud tackles the excluded the disposable and the nature of waste by looking to the future of art the exform He argues that the great theoretical battles to come will be fought in the realms of ideology psychoanalysis and art A realist theory and practice must begin by uncovering the mechanisms that create the distinctions between the productive and unproductive product and waste and the included and excluded To do this we must go back to the towering theorist of ideology Louis Althusser and examine how ideology conditions political discourse in ways that normalize cultural racial and economic practices of exclusion

Deja Vu and the End of History Paolo Virno,2015-02-03 D j vu which doubles and confuses our experience of time is a psychological phenomenon with peculiar relevance to our contemporary historical circumstances From this starting point the acclaimed Italian philosopher Paolo Virno examines the construct of memory the passage of time and the end of history Through thinkers such as Bergson Kojve and Nietzsche Virno shows how our perception of history can become suspended or paralysed making the distinction between before and after cause and effect seem derisory In examining the way the experience of time becomes historical Virno forms a radical new theory of historical temporality

State of Insecurity Isabell Lorey,2015-02-03 Years of remodelling the welfare state the rise of technology and the growing power of neoliberal government apparatuses have established a society of the precarious In this new reality productivity is no longer just a matter of labour but affects the formation of the self blurring the division between personal and professional lives Encouraged to believe ourselves flexible and autonomous we experience a creeping isolation that has both social and political impacts and serves the purposes of capital accumulation and social control In State of Insecurity Isabell Lorey explores the possibilities for organization and resistance under the contemporary status quo and anticipates the emergence of a new and disobedient self government of the precarious Into the Great Wide Open Andreas Rumpfhuber,2017-12-04 Into the Great Wide Open is a book about a search for a form of practice in architecture Practice here is understood both as a critical reflection of a status quo and its history as well as forms of active intervention through designing and planning The book is a fragmentary snapshot of an on going constantly developing and altering process to find a place in the production and reflection of our built environment and implicitly disputes the question What is to be done

Popular Culture and the Austerity Myth Pete Bennett,Julian McDougall,2016-10-14 Contemporary popular culture is engaged in a rich and multi levelled set of representational relations with austerity This volume seeks to explore these relations to ask how does popular culture give expression to austerity how are its effects conveyed how do texts reproduce and expose its mythic qualities It provides a reading of cultural texts in circulation in the present age of austerity Through its central focus popular culture it considers the impact and influence of austerity across media and textual categories The collection presents a theoretical deconstruction of popular culture s reproduction of and response to mythical expressions of austerity in Western culture spanning the United Kingdom North America Europe and the Middle East and textual events from political media discourse music videogames social media film television journalism folk art food protest movements slow media and the practice of austerity in everyday life Mean Boys Geoffrey Mak,2024-04-30 An intellectually vivid and curious collection that refuses to find simple answers to its complex questions NPR Books We Love This book is a rare comfort a companion Makes you say yes that is exactly how it is Torrey Peters A ferocious inquiry into art and desire style and politics madness and salvation and coming of age in our volatile image obsessed present You know them when you see them mean boys take up space wielding cruelty to claim their place in the pecking order Some mean boys make art or music or fashion others make memes Mean boys stomp the runways in Milan and Paris mean boys marched at Charlottesville And in the eyes of critic and style expert Geoffrey Mak mean boys are the emblem of our society an era ravenous for novelty always thirsting for the next edgy thing even at our peril In this pyrotechnic memoir in essays Mak ranges widely over our landscape of paranoia crisis and frenetic clickable consumption He grants readers an inside pass to the spaces where culture was made and unmade over the past decade from the antiseptic glare of white walled galleries to the darkest corners of Berlin techno clubs As the gay son of an evangelical minister Mak fled to those spaces hoping to join a global influential elite But when calamity struck it forced Mak to confront the costs of mistaking status for belonging Fusing personal essay and cultural critique Mean Boys investigates exile and return transgression and forgiveness and the value of faith empathy and friendship in a world designed to make us want what is bad for us Contemporary European Crime Fiction Monica Dall'Asta,Jacques Migozzi,Federico Pagello,Andrew Pepper,2023-04-20 This book represents the first extended consideration of contemporary crime fiction as a European phenomenon Understanding crime fiction in its broadest sense as a transmedia practice and offering unique insights into this practice in specific European countries and as a genuinely transcontinental endeavour this book argues that the distinctiveness of the form can be found in its related historical and political inquiries It asks how the genre's excavation of Europe's history of violence and protest in the twentieth century is informed by contemporary political questions It also considers how the genre's progressive reimagining of new identities forged at the crossroads of ethnicity gender and sexuality is offset by its bleaker assessment of the corrosive effects of entrenched social inequalities political corruption and state violence The result is a rich vibrant collection that shows how crime fiction can help us better understand the complex relationship between Europe's past present and future Seven chapters are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com

The Aesthetics of Necropolitics, Natasha Lushetich, 2018-12-11 Every politics is an aesthetic If necropolitics is the accelerated politics of what is usually referred to as the apolitical age what are its manoeuvres temporalities intensities textures and tipping points Bypassing revelatory and reconstructionist approaches the tendency of which is to show that a particular site or practice is necropolitical by bringing its genealogy into evidence this collection of essays by artist philosophers and theorist curators articulates the pre-perceptual working of necropolitics through a focus on the senses assignments of energy attitudes cognitive processes and discursive frameworks Drawing on different yet complementary methodologies visual performance affect and network analysis historiography and ethnography the contributors analyse cultural fetishes taboos sensorial and relational processes anchored in everyday practices or cued by specific artworks By mapping the necropolitics affective cartography they expand the concept beyond its teleological anthropocentric and reductive horizon of making and letting die to include posthuman and posthumous actants effectively arguing for the necropolitics transformatory political potential

Quit Everything Franco Berardi, 2024-08-13 Analyses the current wave of depression or desertion that is causing more and more people to abandon hope and desire in a world where social political and environment collapse seems inevitable Depression is rife amongst young people the world over But what if this isn't depression as we know it but instead a reaction to the chaos and collapse of a seemingly unchangeable and unliveable future In Quit Everything Franco Berardi argues that this depression is actually conscious or unconscious withdrawal of psychological energy and a disinvestment of desire that he defines instead as desertion A desertion from political participation from the daily grind of capitalism from the brutal reality of climate collapse and from a society which offers nothing but chaos and pain Berardi analyses why this desertion is on the rise and why more people are quitting everything in our age of political impotence and the rise of the far right asking if we can find some political hope in desertion amongst the ruins of a world on the brink of collapse

Broadening the Horror Genre Jamie L. McDaniel, Andrea Wood, 2024-12-16 This collection assembles a wide range of scholarship addressing the intersections influences and impacts of the horror genre's proliferation across multiple forms of media Covering film television websites video games tabletop and role playing games and social media the volume highlights works from marginalized voices or from less scrutinized media Building off one of Horror Studies traditional homes in film the volume first features approaches to previously ignored innovations and offshoots related to cinematic and televisual horror before moving to discuss how horror film conventions inform horror video and tabletop games and how games have started to influence film Finally the collection departs the world of film to examine online and non academic multimodal cultural discourses about horror from popular movie reviewers to interactive online marketing and film promotions This volume will interest scholars and students not only of Horror Studies and genre but also of film media and television studies digital media and video games and transmedia studies

Post-Fukushima Activism Azumi Tamura,2018-05-23 Political disillusionment is widespread in contemporary society In Japan the search for the outside of a stagnant reality sometimes leads marginalised young people to a disastrous image of social change The Fukushima nuclear disaster was the realisation of such an image triggering the largest wave of activism since the 1960s The disaster revealed the interconnected nature of contemporary society The protesters regretted that their past indifference to politics prefigured such a catastrophe and became motivated to protest in the streets They did not share any totalising ideology or predetermined collective identity Instead the activism provided a space for each body to encounter others who forced them to feel and think which also introduced an ethical dimension to their politics In this book Azumi Tamura proposes a concept of politics as a series of endless experiments based on creative responses to unexpected forces Instead of searching for a transcendental reference for politics she investigates an immanent force within individuals that motivates them to become involved in political action Referencing Deleuzian philosophy Tamura provides a different epistemological and ontological approach to the social movement studies She suggests social movements themselves generate knowledge about how one may live better in a complex society and where our lives are exposed to uncertainty This knowledge is neither empirical knowledge nor normative political theory of how we should live Instead social movements bring affective knowledge into politics as they offer a space for experimenting with how we might live The encounter with such knowledge galvanizes our desire for how we want to live and encourages new experiments

Living a Marxist Life Andrew Pendakis,2024-09-19 The last ten years have seen a dramatic upsurge of interest in socialist theory and politics As a recent Washington Post op ed put it We are living in a new social democratic moment People are increasingly drawn to Marxist theory but find it difficult to imagine how it can be integrated practically into an everyday life pervaded by capitalist norms and social practices Often intuitively they agree with Marx s critique of capitalism but don t know how to bridge the gap between their sense of dissatisfaction with the present and a revolutionary solution which can feel indefinitely postponed and remote Living a Marxist Life responds to this disconnect by framing Marxism not as a mere theory but as a practical philosophical truth a lived practice that immediately changes the reality of those experimenting with it From Frida Kahlo to Jean Luc Godard Pablo Picasso to Angela Davis Marxists are not dry theoreticians but embodied agents of a process that is as intensely imaginative and joyful as it is demanding and difficult This book then is a chronicle of radical change a record of the ways our thoughts habits desires actions and emotions can be fundamentally reshaped by an encounter with Marx This book is not an introduction to Marx nor a systematic defense of Marxism Rather it is a self help book that calls into question the very idea of self help a guide to the good life that rejects normative morality and an inspirational manual that promotes philosophy sociology and politics not vague spirituality or religion as solutions to the urgent problems that face us Radical Space Debra Benita Shaw,Maggie Humm,2016-03-24 The spatial turn in the Humanities and Social Sciences has produced a considerable body of work which re assesses space beyond the fixed Cartesian co ordinates of Modernity and the nation state In the process space has been revealed as a productively contested concept with methodological implications across and between disciplines The resulting understandings of space as fluid changeable and responsive to the situation of bodies both human and non human has prepared the ground for radical concepts and uses of space with implications for how we conceive of contemporary lived reality Rather than conceiving of bodies as constantly rendered docile within the spaces of the post industrial nation state Radical Space reveals how activists and artists have deployed these theoretical tools to examine and contest spatial practice Bringing together contributions from academics across the humanities and social sciences together with creative artists this dynamically multidisciplinary collection demonstrates this radicalization of space through explorations of environmental camps new explorations of psychogeography creative interventions in city space and mapping the extra terrestrial onto the mundane spaces of everyday existence Duty to Revolt George Souvlis,Athina Karatzogianni,2023-11-09 This edited collection provides an innovative and comprehensive contribution to the study of historical revolutions and their commemoration as well as contemporary protests and uprisings and how they are communicated today in everyday networked media Supercommunity E-Flux,2017-12-05 Leading artists theorists and writers exhume the dystopian and utopian futures contained within the present I am the supercommunity and you are only starting to recognize me I grew out of something that used to be humanity Some have compared me to angry crowds in public squares others compare me to wind and atmosphere or to software Invited to exhibit at the 56th Venice Biennale e flux journal produced a single issue over a four month span publishing an article a day both online and on site from Venice In essays poems short stories and plays artists and theorists trace the negative collective that is the subject of contemporary life in which art the internet and globalization have shed their utopian guises but persist as naked power in the face of apocalyptic ecological disaster and against the claims of the social commons I convert care to cruelty and cruelty back to care I convert political desires to economic flows and data and then I convert them back again I convert revolutions to revelations I don t want security I want to leave and then disperse myself everywhere and all the time Heroes Franco "Bifo" Berardi,2015-02-03 What is the relationship between capitalism and mental health In his most unsettling book to date Franco Bifo Berardi embarks on an exhilarating journey through philosophy psychoanalysis and current events searching for the social roots of the mental malaise of our age Spanning an array of horrors the Aurora Joker killer Anders Breivik American school massacres the suicide epidemic in Korea and Japan and the recent spate of austerity suicides in Europe Heroes dares to explore the darkest shadow cast by the contemporary obsession with relentless competition and hyper connectivity In a volume that crowns four decades of radical intellectual work Berardi develops the psychoanalytical insights of his friend Félix Guattari and proposes dystopian irony as a strategy to disentangle ourselves from the deadly embrace of absolute capitalism The Bloomsbury Handbook of Popular Music and Youth Culture Andy Bennett, 2022-12-29 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Popular Music and Youth Culture provides a comprehensive and fully up to date overview of key themes and debates relating to the academic study of popular music and youth culture While this is a highly popular and rapidly expanding field of research there currently exists no single source reference book for those interested in this topic The handbook is comprised of 32 original chapters written by leading authors in the field of popular music and youth culture and covers a range of topics including theory method historical perspectives genre audience media globalization ageing and generation
