Het Indische Boek Der Zee:

Het Indische boek der zee Douwe Adolf Rinkes, N. van Zalinge, J. W. de Roever, 1925 Het indische boek der zee, samengesteld on-der redactie, van dr. D.A. Rinkes, N. van Zalinge, en J.W. de Roever met medewerking van vele deskundigen Douwe Adolfe Rinkes, Nicolaas van Zalinge, J. W. de Roever, 1925 The Dutch Colonial System in the East Indies NA Klaveren, 2013-12-17 De Indische bodem Th Ligthart, 1926 Catalogue of a very important collection of books and periodical sets on the Indian Archipelago Martinus Nijhoff, 2013-11-21 Historical Atlas of Indonesia Robert Cribb, 2013-02-01 This pioneering volume traces the history of the region which became Indonesia from early times to the present day in over three hundred specially drawn full colour maps with detailed accompanying text In doing so the Atlas brings fresh life to the fascinating and tangled history of this immense archipelago Beginning with the geographical and ecological forces which have shaped the physical form of the archipelago the Historical Atlas of Indonesia goes on to chart early human migration and the changing distribution of ethnic groups It traces the kaleidoscopic pattern of states in early Indonesia and their gradual incorporation into the Netherlands Indies and eventually into the Republic of Indonesia The Closing of the Frontier John G. Butcher, 2022-07-18 This book is the first on the history of the marine fisheries of Southeast Asia It takes as its central theme the movement of fisheries into new fishing grounds particularly the diverse ecosystems that make up the seas of Southeast Asia This process accelerated between the 1950s and 1970s in what the author calls the great fish race Catches soared as the population of the region grew demand from Japan and North America for shrimps and tuna increased and fishers adopted more efficient ways of locating catching and preserving fish But the great fish race soon brought about the severe depletion of one fish population after another while pollution and the destruction of mangroves and coral reefs degraded fish habitats Today the relentless movement into new fishing grounds has come to an end for there are no new fishing grounds to exploit The frontier of fisheries has closed The challenge now is to exploit the seas in ways that preserve the diversity of marine life while providing the people of the region with a source of food long into the future The Shame and the Sorrow Donna Merwick, 2013-03-01 The Dutch through the directors of the West India Company purchased Manhattan Island in 1625 They had come to the New World as traders not expecting to assume responsibility as the sovereign possessor of a conquered New Netherland They did not intend to make war on the native peoples around Manhattan Island but they did they did not intend to help destroy native cultures but they did they intended to be overseas the tolerant pluralistic and antimilitaristic people they thought themselves to be and in so many respects were at home but they were not For the Dutch intruders establishing a settled presence away from the homeland meant the destabilization of the adventurers values and self regard They found that the initially peaceful encounters with the indigenous people soon took on the alarming overtones of an insurgency as the influx of the Dutch led to a complete upheaval and eventual disintegration of the social and political worlds of the natives How are the Dutch to be judged Donna Merwick in The Shame and the Sorrow asks this question She points to a betrayal both of their own values and of the native peoples She also directs us to the self delusion of hegemonic control Her work belongs alongside the best of today s postcolonial studies in the description of cross cultural violence and subtle questioning of the nature of writing its history

Catalogus van de boeken en kaarten uitmakende de bibliotheek van het Departement van Koloniën, 1929 Paper Landscapes P. Boomgaard, David E.F. Henley, Freek Colombijn, 2022-04-11 Too much of what has so far passed for the historical background to Indonesia s environmental problems has consisted of little more than thinly disguised backward projections of modern trends The writers in this volume report on their own pioneer journeys into the paper landscapes of the colonial literature and archives in search of the real environmental history of Indonesia De Zee, 1925 Het Nederlandse boek in vertaling, 1926 Closing of the Frontier John G Butcher, 2003-08-01 This book is the first on the history of the marine fisheries of Southeast Asia It takes as its central theme the movement of fisheries into new fishing grounds particularly the diverse ecosystems that make up the seas of Southeast Asia This process accelerated between the 1950s and 1970s in what the author calls e the great fish racee Catches soared as the population of the region grew demand from Japan and North America for shrimps and tuna increased and fishers adopted more efficient ways of locating catching and preserving fish But the great fish race soon brought about the severe depletion of one fish population after another while pollution and the destruction of mangroves and coral reefs degraded fish habitats Today the relentless movement into new fishing grounds has come to an end for there are no new fishing grounds to exploit The frontier of fisheries has closed The challenge now is to exploit the seas in ways that preserve the diversity of marine life while providing the people of the region with a source of food long into the future

Engines of Empire Joseph Norbert Frans Marie à Campo, 2002 Indonesia beyond the Water's Edge R. B. Cribb, Michele Ford, 2009-07-29 Indonesia is the world s largest archipelagic state with more than 18 000 islands and over 7 9 million square kilometres of sea The marine frontier presents the nation with both economic opportunities and political and strategic challenges Indonesia has been affected more than most countries in the world by a slow revolution in the management of its waters Whereas Indonesia s seas were once conceived administratively as little more than the empty space between islands successive governments have become aware that this view is outmoded The effective transfer to the seas of regulatory regimes that took shape on land such as territoriality has been an enduring challenge to Indonesian governments This book addresses issues related to maritime boundaries and security marine safety inter island shipping the development of the archipelagic concept in international law marine conservation illegal fishing and the place of the sea in national and regional identity Catalogus van de boekerij van het Department van koloniën Netherlands.
