Het Monster Van Het IJsselmeer:

The geochemistry of chlorine isotopes H.G.M. Eggenkamp, 2014-12-07 The geochemistry of chlorine isotopes describes Hans Eggenkamp's studies to obtain his PhD degree at Utrecht University. It describes methods to measure stable chlorine isotope variations in different types of natural samples, theoretical fractionation as the result of diffusion, and about ten case studies showing chlorine isotope fractionation in natural systems. In these case studies, it was discovered that chlorine stable isotopes fractionate only little, although systematically in processes such as salt precipitation and diffusion. Variations found in natural samples reflect, as such, in most cases, processes that take place within larger reservoirs. The main purpose of the project was to develop procedures to measure stable chlorine isotope compositions in different sample types and to study variations therein. The study gives a good overview of the knowledge on stable chlorine isotope geochemistry at the moment of its original publication in 1994.

Entrepreneurship in the Polis Inga Narbutaitė Aflaki, Evangelia Petridou, 2016-05-06 Dynamics of entrepreneurship have attracted growing attention from scholars of political science, policy studies, public administration, and planning, as well as more recently from the realms of international relations and foreign policy analysis. Under the banner of political entrepreneurship, this volume considers and maps out conceptual approaches to the study of entrepreneurship drawn from these fields, discusses synergies, envisages new analytical tools, and offers contemporary empirical case studies illustrating the diverse political contexts in which entrepreneurship takes place in the polis. Drawing upon an international cast of senior academics and cutting-edge young researchers, the volume takes a closer look at key aspects of political entrepreneurship, such as defining political entrepreneurs, how it relates to change, decision making, and strategies, organizational arrangements, institutional rules, varying contexts, and future research agendas. By highlighting the political aspects of entrepreneurship, the volume presents new exciting opportunities for understanding entrepreneurial activities at regional, national, and international levels. The volume will be of particular relevance to scholars and students of political science, policy studies, public administration, planning, international relations, and business studies, as well as practitioners interested in the nexus and utility of entrepreneurship in the modern-day political world.
