Homily For 8th Grade Graduation:

Tales of the Broken Keith Zuccarelli, 2009-02-02 While sitting at the dinner table in his kitchen Chris Carpenter gazed out the window to his left He stared in awe at the sky taking in the view of what could have been the most beautiful sunset he had ever laid eyes on The reds and oranges mingling with the yellows in the nightclub of the darkening sky melting together like running paint down an artist's canvas all of which captured his attention for the one moment of mental clarity that he had experienced in months His mind had been a world of confusion holding the memories of pain and torment that he simply wanted to wish away He rose from his chair and left the kitchen As he made his way to his bedroom he could hear the whispering laughter of death in every one of his footsteps After entering his room Chris made his way to the dresser his uncle had crafted for him a few years earlier He opened the top drawer and slid his hand under a pile of white socks his mother had bleached to perfection Underneath he felt the cold sting of his escape he pulled it out and stepped over to the bed

Inside Lamp Confidential C. Lamp, 2005-12 Who hasn't questioned Who were my great grandparents Where did they live What did they do My daughters asked these questions and more At their requests I began to write a family history including successes and failures No pirates were found lurking but I located two murders Families do not live in a vacuum I included in laws friends neighbors and strangers who touched our lives As stories and traditions molded the family so did the times in which we lived The story of our family is part of the history of our town state and nation This saga is a microcosm of the nation rising out of Depression winning a global war in a unity of spirit soaring to the happy heights of togetherness A zenith alas that this nation probably will never achieve again Inescapably this book is also the story of my life New Mexico
