Decolonizing the History Curriculum in Malaysia and Singapore Kevin Blackburn,ZongLun Wu,2019-05-09 Decolonizing the History Curriculum in Malaysia and Singapore is a unique study in the history of education because it examines decolonization in terms of how it changed the subject of history in the school curriculum of two colonized countries Malaysia and Singapore Blackburn and Wu s book analyzes the transition of the subject of history from colonial education to postcolonial education from the history syllabus upholding the colonial order to the period after independence when the history syllabus became a tool for nation building Malaysia and Singapore are excellent case studies of this process because they once shared a common imperial curriculum in the English language schools that was gradually decolonized to form the basis of the early history syllabuses of the new nation states they were briefly one nation state in the early to mid 1960s The colonial English language history syllabus was decolonized into a national curriculum that was translated for the Chinese Malay and Tamil schools of Malaysia and Singapore By analyzing the causes and consequences of the dramatic changes made to the teaching of history in the schools of Malaya and Singapore as Britain ended her empire in Southeast Asia Blackburn and Wu offer fascinating insights into educational reform the effects of decolonization on curricula and the history of Malaysian and Singaporean education New York State Education Department Bulletin ,1921 Syllabi University of the State of New York,1928 Annual register Stanford University,1907 Education ,1905 Wesleyan Literary Monthly ,1905 The State and the Politics of Knowledge Michael W. Apple,2003-12-16 The State and the Politics of Knowledge extends the insightful arguments Michael Apple provided in Educating the Right Way in new and truly international directions Arguing that schooling is by definition political Apple and his co authors move beyond a critical analysis to describe numerous ways of interrupting dominance and creating truly democratic and realistic alternatives to the ways markets standards testing and a limited vision of religion are now being pressed into schools

Curriculum Innovation in East Asian Schools Huixuan Xu,2024-11-12 Following closely behind the global pandemic s recent forced challenges to schools and teachers Xu gives an overview of how educational researchers and schools in Asia respond to challenges in times of change Her research focuses on how they adjust or change curriculum policy and practice to find a balance between developing innovation in response to fast changing societal needs and maintaining the existing education systems that traditionally predict success for students In this book curriculum innovation is documented in three themes 21st century skills and competency based curriculum technology supported curriculum and equity in curriculum Xu includes three types of chapters 1 case studies that provide detailed analyses of curriculum innovation at the school or country level 2 conceptual analyses that deepen our understanding of curriculum issues using a new lens and 3 literature reviews that provide an overview of research in particular topics The volume will be of great interest to researchers and educators interested in the role of curriculum innovation in times of change In particular it focuses on the ways innovative curriculum provides opportunities for individual students to maximize their potential while also acknowledging the constraints of local education systems
