It takes a biocultural approach and focusing on emotions, gender and play, it argues we play with fiction horror. In horror we engage not only with the negative emotions of fear and disgust but with a wide range of emotions both positive and negative. The book lays out a new theory of horror and analyzes female protagonists in contemporary horror from child to teen, adult, middle age and old age. Since the turn of the millennium we have seen a new generation of female protagonists in horror. There are feisty teens in The Vampire Diaries 2009, 2017 troubled mothers in The Babadook 2014 and struggling women in the New French extremity with Martyrs 2008 and Inside 2007. At the fuzzy edges of the genre are dramas like Pan's Labyrinth 2006 and Black Swan 2010 and middle age women are now protagonists with Carol in The Walking Dead 2010 and Jessica Lange's characters in American Horror Story 2011. Horror is not just for men but also for women and not just for the young but for audiences of all ages.

The Challenge of Global Migration - Human Rights, Security and Refugees Christoph Bluth, 2024-07-30 This is a comprehensive study that examines the sources of refugee flows in particular as they relate to political persecution, trafficking, human slavery and human rights challenges. Liberal democratic states have been contending with significant refugee inflows. The migration of large populations to Europe and North America is driven by various factors including regional conflicts, the impacts of global warming, political opposition to autocratic regimes and societal as well as cultural relations. The purpose of this study is to understand the nature of human rights challenges, to cut through false perceptions and myths in relation to the sources of migration and refugee flows and to provide a deeper understanding for academics and practitioners in relation to the support for refugees and victims of human slavery. Buenos Aires 2022 - Analytical Psychology Opening to the Changing World: Contemporary Perspectives on Clinical, Scientific, Social, Cultural and Environmental Issues IAAP, 2023-08-03 The XXII International Congress for Analytical Psychology was held in Buenos Aires, Argentina and for the first time in South America. It was also the first such congress delivered in hybrid form, bringing together IAAP members from all over the globe in person and on screens. Guests interested in Jungian thinking from various other academic fields were invited and joined in the conversations. The theme of Opening to the Changing World was explored as we come out of a pandemic and face the imperative of fast changes to our ways of working and relating to people, living beings and the planet we inhabit. The Congress offered again ways of exploring themes via a rich programme of pre-congress workshops, masterclasses, plenary and breakout presentations and posters. The Proceedings are published as two volumes: a printed edition of the plenary presentations and an e-book with the complete material presented at the Congress. To professionals as well as the general public, this collection of papers offers a cross-section and inspiring insight into contemporary Jungian thinking, spanning from classical theories to the latest scientific research. From the Contents: Soul myth and cosmovision in a changing world; Essentials of Analytical Psychology and the descendent path by Margarita Ovalle.
