

FEATURES A NEW INTRODUCTION BY THE AUTHOR

You're single and you know what you want in your life. But if your dreams include getting married and having children, you need to turn the tables on your "career first" conditioning and seek out the golden opportunities right in front of you, right now.

This bold advice from Susan Patton, a graduate of one of the first classes of women at Princeton University, earned her a nomination for Time's 100 Most Influential People list. With warmth, humor, and very straight talk, Susan transforms the wisdom of her own experience into a practical guide for smart young women who aspire to marriage and motherhood. These simple secrets are the essential life strategies that no one's talking about, designed to help you:

- strike while the greatest number of single young men is available to you
- attract a man who is your intellectual and emotional equal
- date to find a mate—and to spot a diamond in the rough
- find total satisfaction in your roles as a wife and mother

Marry by Choice, Not by Chance (previously published as Marry Smart) is a must-read for every young woman who wants to get the most out of love and life.

"Seriously consider Susan Patton's commonsense advice. Sure, it's controversial—but only because it's so vital." —James Taranto,
THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

"[Sheryl Sandberg and Susan Patton's] two new books push women in different directions, but they agree on one thing: whatever young women want out of life, they need to get cracking."
—Charlotte Alter, TIME

SUSAN PATTON became known as "The Princeton Mom" when her letter to her alma mater's newspaper, titled "Advice for the Young Women of Princeton—the Daughters I Never Had," went viral. A human resources consultant and executive coach, she is the proud mother of two Princeton sons and a long-haired dachshund named Lucille.
