Barton Collection, 1878 Oedipus at Colonus and King Lear: Classical and Early Modern Intersections Silvia Bigliuzzi, 2019-12-29 The story of King Lear seems to fill in the blank space separating the end of Oedipus Tyrannus and the beginning of Oedipus at Colonus In both Oedipus at Colonus and the latter part of King Lear we are presented with an old man who was once a King and following his expulsion from his kingdom on account of a crime or of an error is turned into a no thing This happens in the time of the division of the kingdom which is also the time of the genesis of intraspecific conflict and consequently of the end of the dynasty This collection of essays offers a range of perspectives on the many common concerns of these two plays from the relation between fathers and sons daughters to madness and wisdom from sinning and suffering to being and non being in human and divine time It also offers an overarching critical frame that interrogates questions of source and reception probing into the possible exchangeability of perspectives in a game of mirrors that challenges ideas of origin

The One vs. the Many Alex Woloch, 2009-02-09 Does a novel focus on one life or many Alex Woloch uses this simple question to develop a powerful new theory of the realist novel based on how narratives distribute limited attention among a crowded field of characters His argument has important implications for both literary studies and narrative theory Characterization has long been a troubled and neglected problem within literary theory Through close readings of such novels as Pride and Prejudice Great

Expectations and Le P re Goriot Woloch demonstrates that the representation of any character takes place within a shifting field of narrative attention and obscurity Each individual whether the central figure or a radically subordinated one emerges as a character only through his or her distinct and contingent space within the narrative as a whole The character space as Woloch defines it marks the dramatic interaction between an implied person and his or her delimited position within a narrative structure The organization of and clashes between many character spaces within a single narrative totality is essential to the novel s very achievement and concerns striking at issues central to narrative poetics the aesthetics of realism and the dynamics of literary representation Woloch s discussion of character space allows for a different history of the novel and a new definition of characterization itself By making the implied person indispensable to our understanding of literary form this book offers a forward looking avenue for contemporary narrative theory British Museum British Museum (Londen),1883

Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan Lorens Holm,2022-09-30 Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan Shadowing the Public Realm methodically outlines key concepts in psychoanalytic discourse by reading them against key modern and post modern architects It begins with what is arguably the central concept for each discipline by putting the unconscious in a dialectic relation to space Each subsequent chapter begins with a detail in architectural discourse a kind of provocation that anchors each excursion into the thought of Freud and Lacan The text is cyclical episodic and cloudlike rather than expository the intention is not simply to explain the concept of the unconscious but to different degrees perform it in the text The book offers powerful critiques of current planning practice which has no tools to address our attachment to places It concludes with powerful critiques of our incapacity to change the environmentally damaging ways we live our lives which is an effect of our incapacity to recognise the presence of the death drive in our nature The text is an extended thesis spanning the chapters that the field of the Other is the common grammar that organises subjects into civilisations which has consequences for how we treat the public realm in architecture politics and the city The field of the Other is a slightly different slice through the urban social world It shadows but does not correspond exactly to more familiar categories like private public inside outside figure ground or piazza boulevard Reading Architecture with Freud and Lacan will be an essential resource to anyone interested in how the environment we build is a reflection of our desire Psychoanalysis is one of the great humanist discourses of the 20th century and this book will be a valuable reference to the humanist in architects planners and social scientists whether they are students professionals or amateurs It will appeal to historians of the 20th century and to psychoanalysts and architects who are interested in how their respective discourses interdigitate with each other and with other discourses
