Mark Rothko From The Inside Out:

Mark Rothko Christopher Rothko, 2015-01-01 Mark Rothko 1903 1970 world renowned icon of Abstract Expressionism is rediscovered in this wholly original examination of his art and life written by his son Synthesizing rigorous critique with personal anecdotes Christopher the younger of the artist's two children offers a unique perspective on this modern master Christopher Rothko draws on an intimate knowledge of the artworks to present eighteen essays that look closely at the paintings and explore the ways in which they foster a profound connection between viewer and artist through form color and scale The prominent commissions for the Rothko Chapel in Houston and the Seagram Building murals in New York receive extended treatment as do many of the lesser known and underappreciated aspects of Rothko's oeuvre including reassessments of his late dark canvases and his formidable body of works on paper The author also discusses the artist's writings of the 1930s and 1940s the significance of music to the artist and our enduring struggles with visual abstraction in the contemporary era Finally Christopher Rothko writes movingly about his role as the artist's son his commonalities with his father and the terms of the relationship they forged during the writer's childhood Publisher's description Mark Rothko Christopher Rothko, 2015 American Art Yale University Art Gallery, 2023-06-27 A tour through the Yale University Art Gallery's holdings of American art one of the most exceptional museum collections of its kind This volume presents an engaging selection of highlights and introduces readers to the richness and diversity of the Yale University Art Gallery's holdings of American art An introductory essay outlines pivotal moments in the three hundred year history of collecting exhibiting and teaching with American art at Yale and commemorates the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Friends of American Arts at Yale whose support continues to ensure the excellence of the collection The more than one hundred object entries that follow create a narrative that charts the multiplicity of experiences and accomplishments of artists and artisans living and working in North America from the earliest days of European settlement to the present Among the catalogued objects are works by some of the best known names in American art as well as recent acquisitions and masterpieces that represent diverse American identities A dazzling range of media is displayed including paintings and sculpture medals prints and drawings photographs jewelry furniture and decorative arts Each object is illustrated with a full page image and is accompanied by a one page discussion that focuses on its contribution to the history of American art Distributed for the Yale University Art Gallery Saving Abstraction Ryan Dohoney, 2019-09-16 Saving Abstraction Morton Feldman the de Menils and the Rothko Chapel tells the story of the 1972 premier of Morton Feldman's music for the Rothko Chapel in Houston Built in 1971 for people of all faiths or none the chapel houses 14 monumental paintings by famed abstract expressionist Mark Rothko who had committed suicide only one year earlier Upon its opening visitors responses to the chapel ranged from spiritual succor to abject tragedy the latter being closest to Rothko's intentions However the chapel's founders art collectors and philanthropists Dominique and John de Menil opened the space to provide an ecumenically and spiritually affirming environment that spoke to their avant garde approach to Catholicism A year after the chapel opened Morton Feldman s musical work Rothko Chapel proved essential to correcting the unintentionally grave atmosphere of the de Menil s chapel translating Rothko s existential dread into sacred ecumenism for visitors Author Ryan Dohoney reconstructs the network of artists musicians and patrons who collaborated on the premier of Feldman s music for the space and documents the ways collaborators struggled over fundamental questions about the emotional efficacy of art and its potential translation into religious feeling Rather than frame the debate as a conflict of art versus religion Dohoney argues that the popular claim of modernism s autonomy from religion has been overstated and that the two have been continually intertwined in an agonistic tension that animates many 20th century artistic collaborations Visual Arts and Human Flourishing Professor Emerita Art History and Executive Director Emerita USC Museums Selma Holo, Selma Holo, 2024 In mid December 2018 a man stood before one of the most beloved paintings in Europe Botticelli s The Birth of Venus and had a heart attack Henri Neuendorf ArtNet News December 19 2018 <https://news.artnet.com/art-world/heart-attack-botticelli-uffizi-1425448> Venus is that painting you re thinking of the one with the shapely wheat haired woman standing in a seashell with one hand covering her breasts and the other holding her long golden locks in front of her groin Floating above her right shoulder are two winged figures with their arms wrapped around each other who blow air on her like distant kisses On her left stands a woman the Hora of Spring who holds what looks like a drape and gazes directly at our goddess whose face tilted just so looks toward the viewer with a gentle yet mature glance as if she was born knowing all one needs to know of love and seduction Fortunately the man whose heart failed while looking back at our all knowing Venus survived but he was not the first to collapse while viewing art in Florence and no doubt he will not be the last It has happened often enough that there is a medical term for the phenomenon named after the first notable man to succumb Stendhal Syndrome Apparently the French author of On Love a treatise on romantic passion reported that he fell ill in 1817 after viewing too much Florentine art Bamforth 945 Is it any wonder that Botticelli s winged figures hang on to each other so tightly To be awestruck is to be in imminent danger Duncan and Marjorie Phillips and America's First Museum of Modern Art Pamela

Carter-Birken, 2021-07-06 He was born to privilege and sought the world of art She lived at the center of that world a working artist encouraged by the famous artists in her extended family Together Duncan Phillips and Marjorie Acker Phillips founded The Phillips Collection in Washington D C the first museum of modern art in America It opened in the grand Phillips family home in 1921 eight years before New York City s Museum of Modern Art and only a few weeks after they wed Duncan took the lead in developing the collection and showcasing it Marjorie kept space and time to paint Duncan considered Marjorie a partner in the museum even though she was not directly involved in all purchasing and presentation decisions To him her influence was omnipresent Although Duncan s writings on artists and art history were widely published he chose not to provide much instruction for visitors to the museum Instead he combined signature methods of displaying art which live on at The Phillips Collection Phillips had viewers in mind when he hung American art with European art or art of the past with modern art and he frequently rearranged works to stimulate fresh encounters With unfettered access to archival material author Pamela Carter Birken argues that The Phillips Collection s relevancy comes from Duncan Phillips s commitment to providing optimal conditions for personal exploration of art In depth collecting of certain artists was one of Phillips s methods of encouraging independent thinking in viewers Paintings by Pierre Bonnard Arthur Dove Georgia O Keeffe John Marin Jacob Lawrence and Mark Rothko provide testament to the power of America s first museum of modern art

Nazar: Vision, Belief, and Perception in Islamic Cultures Samer Akkach, 2021-12-13 Na ar literally vision is a unique Arabic Islamic term concept that offers an analytical framework for exploring the ways in which Islamic visual culture and aesthetic sensibility have been shaped by common conceptual tools and moral parameters It intertwines the act of seeing with the act of reflecting thereby bringing the visual and cognitive functions into a complex relationship Within the folds of this multifaceted relationship lies an entangled web of religious ideas moral values aesthetic preferences scientific precepts and socio cultural understandings that underlie the intricacy of one s personal belief Peering through the lens of na ar the studies presented in this volume unravel aspects of these entanglements to provide new understandings of how vision belief and perception shape the rich Islamic visual culture Contributors Samer Akkach James Bennett Sushma Griffin Stephen Hirtenstein Virginia Hooker Sakina Nomanbhoy Shaha Parpia Ellen Philpott Teo Wendy M K Shaw

Stargazing in the Atomic Age Anne Goldman, 2021-01-15 A Kirkus Best Book of the Year During World War II with apocalypse imminent a group of well known Jewish scientists and artists sidestepped despair by challenging themselves to solve some of the most difficult questions posed by our age Many had just fled Europe Others were born in the United States to immigrants who had escaped Russia s pogroms Alternately celebrated as mavericks and dismissed as eccentrics they trespassed the boundaries of their own disciplines as the entrance to nations slammed shut behind them In Stargazing in the Atomic Age Anne Goldman interweaves personal and intellectual history in exuberant essays that cast new light on these figures and their virtuosic thinking In lyric lucent sentences that dance between biography and memoir as they connect innovation in science with achievement in the arts Goldman yokes the central dramas of the modern age with the brilliant thinking of earlier eras Here Einstein plays Mozart to align mathematical principle with the music of the spheres and Rothko paints canvases whose tonalities echo the stark prose of Genesis Nearby Bellow evokes the dirt and dazzle of the Chicago streets while upon the heels of World War II Chagall illuminates stained glass no less buoyant than the effervescent notes of Gershwin s Rhapsody in Blue In these essays Goldman reminds readers that Jewish history offers as many illustrations of accomplishment as of affliction At the same time she gestures toward the ways in which experiments in science and art that defy partisanship can offer us inspiration during a newly divisive era

Midlife Maze Janis Clark Johnston, 2017-02-16 Have you found yourself wilting in midlife and wondering what you might do to flourish in your remaining years Have you lost your way in the midlife maze due to a significant loss Did you lose your job or desired career advancement Did you separate or divorce Did your last child leave home Did your family experience a virtual storm of bankruptcy or lose your life savings in a financial meltdown Did you or someone in your family experience the loss of good health Or did you weather the death of a family member partner or friend Your loss story is personal Your path through winding passages during midlife is unique Perhaps the most important encouragement for your grieving process is to know this simple fact grieving is a natural healing response to loss rather than a pathological experience Midlife can be a time of reflection rebellion or reconnecting to old or new interests and activities It can also be a time when losses start to happen or begin to pile up divorce death of a loved one loss of a job or home the moving out and on of grown children and learning how to move forward can be a challenge Here a seasoned psychologist looks at the geography of loss in midlife the way it can affect us and what we can do to get back on track or redirect ourselves when necessary Through first hand stories and practical exercises the author leads readers through the midlife maze to a place of recovery purpose and peace Seeking Connections Janet Revell Barrett,2023 Music connects the lives of students teachers and school communities in many ways Music is also integrally related to other art forms history culture and other subjects commonly taught in schools These relationships deserve critical attention particularly as educators seek to reorient their curricula and pedagogy toward the pressing aims of social justice Seeking Connections encourages interdisciplinarity as a capacity to be exercised an orientation or habit of mind that teachers and students can develop This capacity depends upon viewing music as permeable recognizing that music influences related ways of knowing just as related ways of knowing influence music This book invites teachers to create educational experiences that engage students in exploring an expansive relationship with music With imaginative examples drawn from diverse musical genres visual art poetry and historical cases Seeking Connections provides thoughtful principles models and instructional strategies to deepen students understandings of musical works and inspire interdisciplinary inquiry throughout elementary and secondary music programs as well as settings in music teacher education and professional development Generative Conversations for Creative Learning Gloria Latham,Robyn Ewing,2017-12-06 This book builds on conversations between the author educators and other experts in the field including authors illustrators and teachers to explore the benefits of discussions around quality literature within a classroom context that exercises the imagination and generates new ideas and discoveries The book focuses on a range of strategies that can be utilised to reimagine literacy learning in a 21st century context including parent and teacher talk active listening fostering student driven questions building vocabulary and imagery and metacognitive talk These are argued to have a hugely beneficial impact on how children learn to solve problems engage in complex thought processes negotiate meaning as well as learning how to wonder explore create and defend ideas The book also defends the importance of parents teachers and academics as storytellers using their bodies and voices as instruments of engagement and power It will make compelling reading for students teachers and researchers working in the fields of education and sociology particularly those with an interest in creative methods for improving literacy

Ecce Humanitas Brad Evans, 2021-07-20 The very idea of humanity seems to be in crisis Born in the ashes of devastation after the slaughter of millions the liberal conception of humanity imagined a suffering victim in need of salvation Today this figure appears less and less capable of galvanizing the political imagination But without it how are we to respond to the inhumane violence that overwhelms our political and philosophical registers How can we make sense of the violence that was carried out in the name of humanism And how can we develop more ethical relations without becoming parasitic on the pain of others Through a critical exploration of violence and the sacred Ecce Humanitas recasts the fall of liberal humanism Brad Evans offers a rich analysis of the changing nature of sacrificial violence from its theological origins to the exhaustion of the victim in the contemporary world He critiques the aestheticization that turns victims into sacred objects sacrificial figures that demand response perpetuating a cycle of violence that is seen as natural and inevitable In novel readings of classic and contemporary works Evans traces the sacralization of violence as well as art s potential to incite resistance Countering the continued annihilation of life Ecce Humanitas calls for liberating the political imagination from the scene of sacrifice A new aesthetics provides a form of transgressive witnessing that challenges the ubiquity of violence and allows us to go beyond humanism to imagine a truly liberated humanity
