The Fossil Hunter Shelley Emling, 2009-10-13 At a time when women were excluded from science a young girl made a discovery that marked the birth of paleontology and continues to feed the debate about evolution to this day Mary Anning was only twelve years old when in 1811 she discovered the first dinosaur skeleton of an ichthyosaur while fossil hunting on the cliffs of Lyme Regis England Until Mary's incredible discovery it was widely believed that animals did not become extinct The child of a poor family Mary became a fossil hunter inspiring the tongue twister She Sells Sea Shells by the Seashore She attracted the attention of fossil collectors and eventually the scientific world

Mary Anning and Paleontology for Kids Stephanie Bearce, 2024-05-14 Mary Anning was only 12 years old when she excavated the skeleton of an unknown animal The discovery of the ichthyosaur was the dawn of a new age of science called paleontology and Anning became one of the leading experts in the study of dinosaurs Her discoveries helped lay the groundwork for Charles Darwin's theory of evolution and changed the way scientists understood the past. Unfortunately, as a woman of the 1800s, Anning received almost no recognition for her contributions, which were instead credited to the male naturalists who had purchased her specimens. Author Stephanie Bearce brings Anning's remarkable work to life for young readers with research and projects that allow children to experience hands-on science as Anning did. Kids will create fossil models in plaster and use tools to extract them, build a Mesozoic diorama of a dinosaur habitat, grow crystals in an eggshell to observe how geodes are formed, and much more.
