Baár, Maria Falina, Michal Kopeček, Luka Lisjak Gabrijelčić, 2016 A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe Volume II Part II examines the defeat of the vision of socialism with a human face in 1968 and the political discourses produced by the various consolidation or normalization regimes. It closes with pertinent questions about the fragility of the democratic order globally.

Literature and Party Politics at the Accession of Queen Anne Joseph Hone, 2017 This volume examines how literature was central to the debates about royal succession and political culture of the early eighteenth century. It reshapes our understanding of writers such as Daniel Defoe, Alexander Pope and Joseph Addison as well as our understanding of political literary and material cultures of the time.

A Social History of Western Political Thought Ellen Meiksins Wood, 2022-08-30 A sweeping and nuanced materialist history of Western political thought. In this groundbreaking work, Ellen Meiksins Wood rewrites the history of political theory from Plato to Rousseau. Treating canonical thinkers as passionately engaged human beings, Wood examines their ideas not simply in the context of political languages but as creative responses to the social relations and conflicts of their time and place. She identifies a distinctive relation between property and state in Western history and shows how the canon, while largely the work of members or clients of dominant classes, was shaped by complex interactions among proprietors, labourers and states. Western political theory, Wood argues, owes much of its vigour and also many ambiguities to these complex and often contradictory relations. In the first volume, she traces the development of the Western tradition from classical antiquity through to the Middle Ages in the perspective of social history, a significant departure not only from the standard abstract history of ideas but also from other contextual methods. From the Ancient Greek polis of Plato, Aristotle, Aeschylus and Sophocles through the Roman Republic of Cicero and the Empire of St Paul and St Augustine to the medieval world of Averroes, Thomas Aquinas and William of Ockham, Wood offers a rich, dynamic exploration of thinkers and ideas that have indelibly stamped our modern world. In the second volume, Wood addresses the formation of the modern state, the rise of capitalism, the Renaissance and Reformation, the scientific revolution and the Age of Enlightenment, which have all been attributed to the early modern period. Nearly everything about its history remains controversial, but one thing is certain: it left a rich and provocative legacy of political ideas unmatched in Western history. The concepts of liberty, equality, property, human rights and revolution, born in those turbulent centuries, continue to shape and to limit political discourse today. Assessing the work and background of figures such as Machiavelli, Luther, Calvin, Spinoza, the Levellers, Hobbes, Locke and Rousseau, Ellen Wood vividly explores the ideas of the canonical thinkers not as philosophical abstractions but as passionately engaged responses to the social conflicts of their day.

Protesting about Pauperism Elizabeth T. Hurren, 2007 The consequences of extreme poverty were a grim reality for all too many people in Victorian England. The various poor laws implemented to try to deal with it contained a number of controversial measures, one of the most radical and unpopular being the crusade against outdoor relief during which central government sought to halt all welfare payments at home. Via a close case study of Brixworth union in Northamptonshire, which offers an unusually rich corpus of primary material and evidence the author looks at what happened to those impoverished men and women who struggled to live independently in a world without welfare outside the workhouse She retraces the experiences of elderly paupers evicted from almshouses of the children of the aged poor prosecuted for parental maintenance of dying paupers who were refused medical care in their homes and of women begging for funeral costs in an attempt to prevent the bodies of their loved ones being taken for dissection by anatomists She then shows how increasing democratisation gave the labouring poor the means to win control of the poor law ELIZABETH T HURREN is Senior Lecturer in the History of Medicine Oxford Brookes University Centre for Health Medicine and Society Past and Present This

Yves Charles Zarka,2016-07-07 Yves Charles Zarka shows you how Hobbes established the framework for modern political thought Discover the origin of liberalism in the Hobbesian theory of negative liberty that Hobbesian interest and contract are essential to contemporary discussions of the comportment of economic actors and how state sovereignty returns anew in the form of the servility of the state At the same time Zarka controversially argues against received readings claiming that Hobbes is a thinker of a state monopoly on legitimate violence History in the Humanities and Social Sciences

Bernstein,2015-05-05 Explores how the thought of Leo Strauss amounts to a model for thinking about the connection between philosophy Jewish thought and history In Leo Strauss on the Borders of Judaism Philosophy and History Jeffrey A Bernstein explores how the thought of Leo Strauss amounts to a model for thinking about the connection between philosophy Jewish thought and history For Bernstein Strauss shows that a close study of the history of philosophy from the ancients to medievals to moderns is necessary for one to appreciate the fundamental distinction between the forms of life Strauss terms Jerusalem and Athens that is order through revealed Law and free philosophical thought respectively

Through an investigation of Strauss's published texts, examination of his intellectual biography and history, and making use of correspondence, archival materials, and seminar transcripts, Bernstein shows how Strauss's concern with the relation between Judaism and philosophy spanned his entire career.
