strawberry industry as a harm industry and explores author Dvera Saxton s activist ethnographic work with farmworkers in response to health and environmental injustices She argues that dealing with devilish as in deadly depressing disabling and toxic problems requires intersecting ecosocial emotional ethnographic and activist labors Through her work as an activist medical anthropologist she found the caring labors of engaged ethnography take on many forms that go in many different directions Through chapters that examine farmworkers embodiment of toxic pesticides and social and workplace relationships Saxton critically and reflexively describes and analyzes the ways that engaged and activist ethnographic methods frameworks and ethics aligned and conflicted and in various ways helped support still ongoing struggles for farmworker health and environmental justice in California These are problems shared by other agricultural communities in the U S and throughout the world Ecological Informatics Friedrich Recknagel,William K. Michener,2017-09-21 This book introduces readers to ecological informatics as an emerging discipline that takes into account the data intensive nature of ecology the valuable information to be found in ecological data and the need to communicate results and inform decisions including those related to research conservation and resource management At its core ecological informatics combines developments in information technology and ecological theory with applications that facilitate ecological research and the dissemination of results to scientists and the public Its conceptual framework links ecological entities genomes organisms populations communities ecosystems landscapes with data management analysis and synthesis and communicates new findings to inform decisions by following the course of a loop In comparison to the 2nd edition published in 2006 the 3rd edition of Ecological Informatics has been completely restructured on the basis of the generic conceptual f ramework provided in Figure 1 It reflects the significant advances in data management analysis and synthesis that have been made over the past 10 years including new remote and in situ sensing techniques the emergence of ecological and environmental observatories novel evolutionary computations for knowledge discovery and forecasting and new approaches to communicating results and informing decisions
