2. Material Supply. One of the most important wartime activities of the U.S. Section was the administration control of a material center, establishment of which was dictated by a combination of circumstances following the capitulation of Japan. A critical shortage of supply services manpower developed as a result of demobilization losses and the assignment of numerous units to occupation duties. On the other hand, there was an shortage of his manpower. Further, there was a surplus in a majority of his units because available almost immediately for non-essential employ- ment. Many of these were sent to meet supply service needs, a total of thirty units being allocated to help maintain stores. In their new roles, these units were directed with performing various services as they helped over, created another, involving huge quantities of material equipment and organizations. Thanks of the increasing services and participation of immediate delivery of this equipment as supplies intended for the combat and invasion of Japan continued to pour into the theater from the United States in the mid-August and started first activity in handling and storage.

Having developed the answer to the manpower shortage problem, the 14th AA Command also found a solution for the equipment storage problem in the establishment of the 4th Material Center at Mafeking, Bight Bayshore, Lagos. The location was approved by Headquarters, WestAfrica, during the last week in August 1944, and the necessary buildings were constructed at once. The 14th AA Base Battalion and the 14th Reserve Maintenance Company (ARC) were designated to operate the center under direction of the 4th Battalion. Later they were assigned by the 14th Signal Sector Maintenance Unit. The mission of the center was to receive, repair, and preserve for indefinite storage all guns, fire control equipment, tanks, and technical vehicles of AA units on land, and armor equipment sent by under shipment from various islands in the EOPs. All the equipment received and processed, including approximately 500 AA guns of all calibers from 40 mm to 120 mm, eventually was turned in to depots of all calibers shipped for permanent storage or was stored direct in the United States.

4. Staging Areas. The 4th Section also had administrative responsibility for the management of staging areas for Category II and III units of the Command. Two such areas were selected by the section
