Bioterror in the 21st Century Daniel M Gerstein, 2009-09-01 Daniel Gerstein draws on twenty nine years of experience in the security and defense sectors to address the threat of bioterrorism in the twenty first century He warns that while the proliferation of knowledge and capabilities in the field of biotechnology offers ever increasing opportunities for scientific breakthroughs the potential for the misuse of that knowledge also increases Gerstein takes a classic game theory approach in his analysis of the potential for a bioterror attack in the future His examination provides an objective capability for assessing threats understanding emerging trends and developing mitigation strategies However in the end the book is less about predicting future behavior than about understanding the framework in which dangerous capabilities are allowed to proliferate The study also makes a valuable contribution to the debate over perceived threats and vulnerabilities in this new global environment Armed Groups Jeffrey H. Norwitz, 2008-08-05

 University of Queensland Australia Homeland Security James J. F. Forest, 2006-06-30 America is a target the homeland is under threat While Americans have been targets of terrorist attacks for quite some time September 11 2001 awoke the nation to the reality that we are vulnerable in our homes our places of work and worship and our means of public transportation And yet we must continue to function as best we can as the world's most vibrant economic and political community The current threat environment requires greater engagement with the public as the necessary eyes and ears of the nation's homeland security infrastructure However to be effective the public must be equipped with the knowledge of where and why specific locations and activities may be a terrorist target what is being done to protect those targets and how they can help This three volume set answers that need The chapters of each volume of Homeland Security revolve around a core of central questions Are we safer today than we were pre 9 11 What steps have been taken in all these areas to protect ourselves What are the threats we face and what new threats have developed since 9 11 Are we staying one step ahead of those who wish to do us harm In 2002 more than 400 million people 122 million cars 11 million trucks 2.4 million freight cars and 8 million containers entered the United States Nearly 60 000 vessels entered the United States at its 301 ports of entry Clearly the amount of activity this represents will require a long term commitment to innovation organizational learning and public vigilance to complement an already overstretched network of government agencies and security professionals
