Narratives of Hope and Grief in Higher Education Stephanie Anne Shelton, Nicole Sieben, 2020-04-01

This collection weaves together the personal narratives of a group of diverse scholars in academia in order to reflect on the ways that grief and hope matter for those situated within higher education. Each chapter explores a unique aspect of grief and loss from experiencing a personal tragedy such as the loss of a loved one to national and international grief such as campus shootings and refugee camp experiences to experiencing racism and microaggressions as a woman of color in academia to the implications of religious differences severing personal ties as an individual navigates research and academic studies. Unlike most resources examining grief, this collection pushes beyond notions of sorrow as solely individual and instead situates moments of loss and hurt as ones that matter politically, academically, professionally, and personally. The editors and their authors offer pathways forward to academics, researchers, teachers, pedagogues, and thinkers who grapple with grief in a variety of forms, transforming this book into a critical resource of hope to those in the field of education and others who may feel the effects of an otherwise solitary journey of grief to create an awareness of solidarity and support that some may not realize exists within academic circles.
